Plane Crash Kills 64 At Cincinnati

PLANE TRAGEDY IN KENTUCKY. Firemen remove the body of a victim in the crash of a TWA jetliner Monday night in an apple orchard while approaching the Greater Cincinnati Airport. Sixty-four of the 82 aboard died in the crash just across the Ohio River from Cincinnati. (UPI Telephoto)

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A team of federal investigators went to work today trying to determine why a TWA jet passenger plane crashed while approaching the Greater Cincinnati Airport Monday night, apparently killing 64 of 82 persons aboard.

"We counted up all our passengers again, and now find there were 75 passengers and seven crew members," said TWA District Manager A. B. Krueger. "There are 18 survivors."

"That leaves 64 persons not accounted for. I don't want to say they are all dead, but I don't have much hope for finding any more survivors," Krueger added.

Six of the survivors were reported in serious or critical condition in various area hospitals.

Most of the injured were rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Covington, Ky. Two-thirds of the nurses at the hospital resigned last week in a dispute with the management—but most of them reported back to work Monday night to care for the injured.

★ ★ ★ 18 Survivors Reported ★ ★ ★

The debris-strewn crash scene is in an orchard about 1.5 miles north of the airport and not far from the spot where an American Airlines passenger plane crashed in 1965 with heavy loss of life.

Greater Cincinnati Airport is built south of the edge of a plateau above the Ohio River. The American Airlines plane smashed against the hillside 50 feet below the edge of the plateau. The TWA plane that crashed Monday night came down a few hundred yards past the edge, in plain sight of the runway lights.

Members of the National Transport Safety Board team arrived during the night. Several of them visited the crash site in the dark, but one of them, Oscar Laurel, said nothing significant was found. He said the team would be fully organized today.

Woodrow McKay, chief tower controller at the airport, said "a pretty good fire broke out" after the plane hit.

More than a score of persons were waiting inside the airport restaurant for the arrival of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Maude Cuneo of Hebron, Ky., said she saw a "great ball of fire," that it looked to her as though the plane had "exploded in the air."

The airplane was Trans World Air lines Convair 880 Flight 128 bound from Los Angeles to Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Boston. It was about two hours late, TWA said, because a faulty door of another plane caused passengers to be shifted in Los Angeles to the one that crashed.

Dense smoke hung over the area and debris covered the ground at the scene of the crash. Light snow fell sporadically as ambulances hauled bodies away from the orchard. Floodlights illuminated the area.

Among the first at the scene was Capt. Paul Dickmann, commander of the Hebron, Ky. life squad.

"We were running across the field past a man and when we went on, there was a man carrying a child from the burning wreckage of the plane," Dickmann said.

He said they were both badly hurt but told him to go on and help the others. Dickman said the man then collapsed in his arms.

Dickmann said a man told him he thought it was just a hard landing at first. But he then said "The ceiling collapsed on my wife and then the plane burst into flames."

McKay said the plane was making a routine instrument approach. An airport spokesman said there had been no indication from the pilot of any trouble.

Five Homeless In Blaze

Route 213 Dwelling Hit By Flames

Rawson Residence Destroyed; Family Out At The Time

A family of five was left homeless this morning when fire destroyed a home near Hammondsville on Route 213. The one - story frame house was owned by Sonny Rawson.

No one was home at the time of the fire. Rawson's three children were in school, he was at work and his wife had left before the blaze engulfed the dwelling.

Irondale volunteer firemen fought the flames, but were hampered by lack of water, there being no hydrants in the area. At one time the blaze was almost out when the supply of water became exhausted and firemen were forced to wait until another truck returned.

Firemen have not yet determined the cause of the blaze. The Rawsons used oil heat.

The Wellsville volunteer department dispatched a truck and four men to assist.

Clerks Retained, But Plan To Quit

LISBON — Nine clerks in the three county courts were appointed to the same jobs at the same pay Monday by a new boss — the Columbiana County commissioners — but said they will resign regardless.

The development was the latest in the dispute over transfer of operation of the courts from Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey to the commissioners.

The commissioners, in their 2-to-1 vote officially authorizing the change, postponed the takeover date from Dec. 1 to Jan. 1.

THE CLERKS previously had entered into an agreement to support Stacey and leave their jobs if he lost control. They reemphasized this decision during a press conference yesterday in Southwest Court.

Learning of the one - month postponement during their meeting, the clerks said they are grateful because it will mean two more paychecks during the Christmas season.

They said, however, they have not changed their minds about resigning. "We were not influenced in this decision in any way," they stated, "and are doing only what we believe is right."

They said they feel they cannot depend on the commissioners' statement that they have no intention of disturbing the present personnel. "'We would be replaced as soon as they could train other clerks to replace us," they claim.

THE WOMEN said they believe, from conversations with the men involved, that the commissioners and the judges made the change against their better judgment at the direction of the GOP executive committee.

Stacey said he feels that the judges, elected on a nonpartisan basis, succumbed to political pressure to agree to the change.

The commissioners' resolution appointed the senior clerks — Inez Wisser of Eastern Court, East Palestine; Veronica E.

And Under 'J' - Jail?

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (AP) — Three Pennsylvania men have been charged on false pretense charges in what officials here say is one of the more unusual cases they've handled.

The three men are accused of using printing equipment in a car to print their own bingo card and win $1,000.

Police identified the men as John E. Mixter, 28, and his brother, Daniel, 26, both of Corapolis, Pa.; and Anthony V. Andrews, 58, of Imperial.

They are charged with obtaining a card for the "special" which requires that all 52 numbers on the card be called in order for the holder to win $1,000.

The three-man team is accused of getting a card, duplicating it in their car and then printing the numbers on as they listened to them announced on a loudspeaker inside the bingo hall. The fake card was then taken inside to the man who had played and turned in as a winner.

The Lions Club, which operates the game here, noticed that two cards with the same numbers were turned in and payment was stopped on the check. The arrests were made when the three came to ask why payment was stopped.

Clothing Tax Main Issue In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer resumes his tax discussions today with four legislative leaders amid strong reports the main stumbling block is a proposed sales tax on clothing.

The negotiations, now in their second full week, have boiled down to a clash of political philosophies, according to a high legislative source.

"Do you tax people or do you tax things" was the way he put it.

Shafer and his Republican legislative leadership reportedly favor extending the 5 per cent sales tax to clothing as the chief revenue-raiser.

But House Minority Leader Herbert Fineman termed this proposal "unpalatable."

Minority Democrats, meanwhile, would be inclined to vote for a 1 per cent adjusted income tax, reliable sources reported, but the GOP caucuses generally oppose such an idea.

The clothing tax would bring in $50 million this fiscal year, the same amount estimated from

2 Provisions Tacked On To Measure

Senate Votes Extra $250 Million Yearly For Social Security Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to provide an extra $250 million a year in federal funds to hospitals in payments for their elderly medicare patients and to require states to provide welfare for families with unemployed fathers.

The two provisions were tacked on to the omnibus Social Security bill Monday during the fourth day of Senate floor debate.

The measure remained before senators today as Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield pressed for final Senate action by Wednesday.

Many important amendments remain to be considered.

Republican leaders announced they would make a major effort today to substitute the House version of Social Security cash benefits and taxes for the Senate Finance Committee's proposed schedules.

The committee voted for substantially larger monthly payments than the House as well as for bigger payroll taxes.

A bipartisan group of 15 senators said they plan to push amendments to the welfare sections of the bill designed to remove what they term coercive provisions which might force mothers on welfare to work.

The amendment to boost medicare payments to hospitals, sponsored by Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, and adopted by voice vote, would make it possible to reimburse them on a per diem costs basis.

Social Security administration experts said this would boost payments by $250 million a year since it would mean averaging of costs over all classes of patients.

Elderly patients generally cost less than younger ones, they said, and up to now the administration has insisted on limiting reimbursement closely to

Raise Delayed For Kapp

Council Votes Pay Hikes For Auditor, Treasurer

Council enacted ordinances Monday night granting an $1,800-a-year raise for Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger and a $200 boost for Treasurer Bert A. Dawson, effective with the start of their new terms Jan. 1, but mustered only enough votes to give first reading to a third piece of legislation that would grant an $1,800 raise to Solicitor - elect J. Michael Kapp.

Councilman Frank P. Duffy voted against all three raises, but the boosts for Zollinger and Dawson were enacted with 6-1 votes. Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson teamed up with Duffy to oppose the raise for Kapp, which meant a 5-2 vote — only enough for first reading.

Council slated special meetings next Monday and Tuesday nights at 7 to give the second and third readings to the ordinance providing for Kapp's raise. Councilman Robert W. Sample, who is chairman of the finance committee, explained it must be enacted prior to Dec. 1 if it's to take effect by Jan. 1. An elected official's salary cannot be raised during his term, so Kapp will go four years without a pay hike unless the legislation is enacted on time, Sample added.

Zollinger and Dawson are Republicans named to new terms at the Nov. 7 general election. Kapp, a Democrat, was named to succeed Solicitor Joseph W.

Minor Sports To Be Restored Here

Reactivation of minor sports was approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The program was dropped when cutbacks were made two years ago to provide salary increases for teachers.

Additional money due from Senate Bill 350, a state foundation program, will bear the cost of the new program.

The assignments for minor sports include: James Potts, baseball coach; Donn Foutz, gymnastics; David E. Thorne, golf; Joe Mowad, wrestling; James Render, track; Paul Hruska, assistant track, and Robert McMahan, assistant basketball coach at Westgate.

THE BOARD also agreed to seek bids on a group insurance program for school employes, with Dec. 1 the deadline.

Prior to the regular session, the board met with a committee of the East Liverpool Teachers Association to discuss the program.

Postmaster Samuel Brown, a member, said the board had agreed to pay all or part of group insurance, but the maximum will be $10.50 per month for each policy.

In other business, the board approved a half-unit credit for those in the high school Junior ROTC program after authorization from the Ohio Board of Education.

The "favorable effect" of the ROTC program in the school was cited.

AN UNLICENSED practical nursing program was discussed. ROTC program in the school Supt. Paul Blair said he had received correspondence from the owners of the Adkins Nursing Home, the Nentwick Nursing Home and Dr. Edith Gilmore supporting the program and stressing the need. The classes would run for a period of 13 to 14 weeks for a total of 240 hours at no cost to the board. Blair explained, howev- approval and sponsorship of the board. An open meeting will be held Dec. 1 at 3:30 p. m. in the Westgate School library on the matter.

Timothy Mark Bennett, son of Dr. and Mrs. James D. Bennett of 516 Jackson St., was granted approval to complete his senior year at the high school. The Bennett family will move to South Hollywood Dr. Nov. 30, outside the city school boundaries. Tuition will be paid by Dr. Bennett.

A report on the recent Ohio School Boards Association convention at Columbus was given by Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, Blair, Harry McConville, and Carl Pelini, who met with representatives of the Ohio Department of Education.

THE TEACHERS' aide program, which at present has six aides in various city schools, was also discussed. Blair reviewed the qualifications and some of the duties. He pointed out the applicants had been screened through the local office of the Ohio State Employment Service and the Community Action Committee of Columbiana County under the direction of Miss Catherine Franzetta. He said individual schools had no part in choosing applicants in answer to calls from several who had applied as aides, but were not chosen.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, board secretary, read a letter from W. S. Haugh, president of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society, thanking the board for its cooperation during the 42nd annual flower show in September.

Lorain Teachers Due Back After 3-Day Walkout

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Public school teachers were due back in classes here today after the board of education accepted terms the teachers set for ending a three-day walkout.

The teachers accepted by a vote of 399 to 83 Monday afternoon a proposal by the Lorain Education Association to return to their classes immediately if the board would submit issues motivating their boycott of classes to a board of review.

Earlier, the teachers had rejected an offer from the school board, which the LEA said was substantially the same one the board had made before. The board added an offer to withdraw its invoking of the Ferguson Act and not to seek a court injunction to get the teachers back to work.

The Ferguson Act probibits strikes by public employes under penalty of dismissal.

The LEA terms included a proposal that no legal action be taken and that there be no reprisals against those who had stayed away from classes Thursday, Friday and Monday.

The teachers are seeking higher pay and other benefits. More than 500 of them were absent Monday, forcing 16 of the city's 22 public schools to close.

4 U.S. Defectors Rap American Policy In Viet

MOSCOW (AP) — Four U.S. sailors who deserted the carrier Intrepid in Japan told the Soviet public today that a majority of American servicemen do not want to fight in Vietnam.

A Soviet "peace committee" looking after the four said they are "resting" in Moscow but declined to give their whereabouts or future plans or to allow foreign newsmen to talk with them.

The four young men said on Moscow television Monday night they deserted in protest against U.S. policy in Vietnam. They are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John Michael Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md.; Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif., and Michael Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

The U.S. Embassy said it has no intention of trying to contact the deserters or inquiring about them. A spokesman said the embassy plans to ignore them.

In an interview today in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, the sailors said they would go on to other countries to continue their work against "the inhuman war in Vietnam." They did not say which countries.

The four young Americans jumped ship Oct. 24 while the Intrepid was in Japan for a recreation stay after a tour bombing North Vietnam.

A Japanese peace group which looked after the deserters said they went to the Soviet Union because they apparently did not consider Japan neutral in the Vietnam war.

"I think the majority of Americans do not want to fight in Vietnam," Barilla told Pravda, "but many of them lack decisiveness. They are drafted and they 'do their duty'."

Barilla said his officers told him America has to fight in Vietnam to stop communism.

He turned against the war he said, after watching planes loaded with bombs fly off from the Intrepid on raiding missions day after day.

"It became clear to me that we were killing people," he said. "I am convinced that the United States does not have any right to be in Vietnam."

Anderson said, "We would like to be an example to those who are beginning to understand the Vietnamese war."

He said that on the basis of what he observed on the Intrepid, he did not think the majority of pilots favored the war.

"But they prefer to remain silent," he said. "This personal indifference was one of the main reasons we decided to do something."

Tax Rates Fixed For Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — Council Monday night accepted the tax rates fixed by the Columbiana County Budget Commission.

The taxation will be 2.6 mills inside the 10-mill limitation and 0.50 outside the 10-mill limitation.

Mayor Ernest Phillips said the pavilion floor has been prepared for the pouring of cement.

Ashes and salt have been placed in drums along Depot St. for ice control. Christmas decorations will be erected at the park in the near future.

Bills totaling $979 were paid. The next meeting will be Dec. 18.

Lorain Teachers Due Back After 3-Day Walkout

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Public school teachers were due back in classes here today after the board of education accepted terms the teachers set for ending a three-day walkout.

The teachers accepted by a vote of 399 to 83 Monday afternoon a proposal by the Lorain Education Association to return to their classes immediately if the board would submit issues motivating their boycott of classes to a board of review.

Earlier, the teachers had rejected an offer from the school board, which the LEA said was substantially the same one the board had made before. The board added an offer to withdraw its invoking of the Ferguson Act and not to seek a court injunction to get the teachers back to work.

The Ferguson Act probibits strikes by public employes under penalty of dismissal.

The LEA terms included a proposal that no legal action be taken and that there be no reprisals against those who had stayed away from classes Thursday, Friday and Monday.

The teachers are seeking higher pay and other benefits. More than 500 of them were absent Monday, forcing 16 of the city's 22 public schools to close.

County's School Board Sets Salary Increases

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education voted Monday to apply House Bill 350 funds to salary increases for the staff.

The following increases are retroactive to Sept. 1:

Superintendent, $12,000 to $13,536; elementary consultant, high school consultant and psychologist, each $10,400 to $11,059; secretary 1, $5,250 to $5,458; secretary 2, $3,900 to $4,108, and attendance officer, $3,750 to $3,887. The men's salaries include travel allowances — $400 for the attendance officer, $600 for the others.

Beaver Local School District has nearly 40 per cent of the 6,816 students in the county rural school system, County Supt. James L. McBride reported.

Enrollment figures show Beaver, 2,694; United, 1,561; Southern, 1,463, and Fairfield - Waterford, 1,098.

There are 4,574 pupils in elementary grades, 2,000 in high school, 177 in kindergarten and 65 in special education classes.

The board appointed Donald Elliott of Rogers as its representative to a countywide discussion of a proposed joint vocational high school at next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in McKinley School on E. Chestnut St. Superintendents and one member from each school board are to attend.

Elliott and Allan G. Chamberlin of Leetonia RD 2, president, reported on sessions of the Ohio School Boards Association convention last week at Columbus.

Fred Lohman, attendance officer, reported he covered 830 miles on 62 calls in September and 840 miles on 84 calls in October.

McBride said he has been invited to speak at the Leetonia football banquet Dec. 2. He also said he asked the county fair directors for discussions on school displays and exhibits.

The next meeting will be Dec. 18.

4 U.S. Defectors Rap American Policy In Viet

MOSCOW (AP) — Four U.S. sailors who deserted the carrier Intrepid in Japan told the Soviet public today that a majority of American servicemen do not want to fight in Vietnam.

A Soviet "peace committee" looking after the four said they are "resting" in Moscow but declined to give their whereabouts or future plans or to allow foreign newsmen to talk with them.

The four young men said on Moscow television Monday night they deserted in protest against U.S. policy in Vietnam. They are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John Michael Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md.; Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif., and Michael Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

The U.S. Embassy said it has no intention of trying to contact the deserters or inquiring about them. A spokesman said the embassy plans to ignore them.

In an interview today in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, the sailors said they would go on to other countries to continue their work against "the inhuman war in Vietnam." They did not say which countries.

The four young Americans jumped ship Oct. 24 while the Intrepid was in Japan for a recreation stay after a tour bombing North Vietnam.

A Japanese peace group which looked after the deserters said they went to the Soviet Union because they apparently did not consider Japan neutral in the Vietnam war.

"I think the majority of Americans do not want to fight in Vietnam," Barilla told Pravda, "but many of them lack decisiveness. They are drafted and they 'do their duty'."

Barilla said his officers told him America has to fight in Vietnam to stop communism.

He turned against the war he said, after watching planes loaded with bombs fly off from the Intrepid on raiding missions day after day.

"It became clear to me that we were killing people," he said. "I am convinced that the United States does not have any right to be in Vietnam."

Anderson said, "We would like to be an example to those who are beginning to understand the Vietnamese war."

He said that on the basis of what he observed on the Intrepid, he did not think the majority of pilots favored the war.

"But they prefer to remain silent," he said. "This personal indifference was one of the main reasons we decided to do something."

Tax Rates Fixed For Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — Council Monday night accepted the tax rates fixed by the Columbiana County Budget Commission.

The taxation will be 2.6 mills inside the 10-mill limitation and 0.50 outside the 10-mill limitation.

Mayor Ernest Phillips said the pavilion floor has been prepared for the pouring of cement.

Ashes and salt have been placed in drums along Depot St. for ice control. Christmas decorations will be erected at the park in the near future.

Bills totaling $979 were paid. The next meeting will be Dec. 18.

What The Steel Industry Needs

The toughest job for the steel industry in the United States is to prove that profit-making private enterprise is a match for socialized competition.

American steelmakers would have no misgivings about competing with foreign steelmakers under the same rules of profit and loss. But when they must compete with state-owned enterprise, financed with state capital and equipped with state-owned machinery, American steelmakers feel skittish.

Their greatest worry is differential wage rates.

Costs of raw material average out about the same. But cost of labor varies so widely, always to the disadvantage of U.S. steel producers, that it is a handicap, despite everything being done to upgrade the efficiency of U.S. steelworkers.

They are the world's best.

When coupled with the world's best machinery, they are without equal in terms of tonnage produced per man-hour.

But when their efficiency is coupled with the world's highest wage rates, in terms of tonnage costs, the steel industry in the United States is driven to the expedient of asking for tariff protection.

People with vision in the industry are hoping for something more — stability of production.

The American steel industry, struggling to hold its own in the world market and the domestic market, cannot afford a work stoppage.

There never was a more urgent need for everybody concerned with the industry's future to be mindful of the competition American-made steel faces from abroad.

No one is proposing that foreign steel be barred from the U.S. market. But everybody concerned with the industry's future is thinking about limits on steel imports, to protect the High rates without high employment mean nothing.

If import limits could be matched by guarantees of continued production, free from the threat of work stoppages, the prospect for American-made steel would be as bright as the new steel making facilities designed to keep the industry competitive with the best the rest of the world can offer.

Solution To VD

An exceptional job in informing East Liverpool and Beaver Local students about the hazards of venereal diseases has been performed by the East Liverpool Junior Women's Club which has sponsored screening of a film on the subject.

VD has been spreading among young people at an alarming rate across the United States, and there is no doubt it is a problem here.

What the Junior Women have done with promoting of the film is to help reveal what venereal disease is and how it can be prevented and treated to adults and young people who heretofore have been unaware and fearful about it.

This project on education about VD should be a continuing one for young people, and some means should be taken to have the film or one like it shown annually or more often throughout the district. It is to be hoped the club can succeed in its drive to purchase the film for that purpose, for it is one solution to what is already a serious health problem for some individuals and could be one for the whole community.

The Pound And The Dollar

Devaluation of the British pound has started a new round of speculation about the strength of the American dollar.

In the tangled jungle of world finance, the dollar has played the Tarzan role for years. The British pound was important, too, in a supporting capacity.

This was possible because both currencies are recognized as gold equivalents for foreign payments. That simply means dollars and pounds can be transferred from country to country while the gold equivalent remains in the United States or Britain.

In recent years, both systems of currency have had problems, with the pound suffering most. The pound was devaluated a huge 30 per cent in 1949 and has faced subsequent crises in 1951, 1957, 1961 and 1964.

Despite drastic domestic action, the situation deteriorated to a point where a devlauation decision was inevitable. Britain was forced to devalue to make British products cheaper in terms of other currencies.

The question now in the minds of businessmen and financial experts around the world concners stability of the dollar. Will the United States be forced to resort to devaluation to avoid loss of markets?

The other large factor that will help determine the fate of the dollar is a balance-of-payments problem the United States has been unable to bring under control.

The United States has spent more money abroad than the remainder of the world has spent in the United States every year since 1949, with the exception of 1957.

The imbalance has led to a surplus of dollars in Western European countries.

France touched off a chain reaction by beginning a policy of converting dollars into gold early in 1965. Following the lead of France, Spain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Switzerland converted sizable dollar holdings into gold, too.

The United States government has taken steps to shore up sagging confidence in the dollar and slow the gold drain. While helping to some extent, moves on several fronts have not removed the pressure on the dollar nor removed the threat of devaluation.

The pound devaluation is a further threat to the dollar. Full consequence of the British decision is problematic. Whatever happens, however, will have a direct bearing on dollars.

Britain is not out of the financial woods yet — and neither is the United States.

Romney Makes It Official

Michigan Gov. George Romney, forthright in all things, has taken his countrymen out of theoretical suspense by announcing he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968.

Actually, there was no suspense. Everybody knew Gov. Romney had been running as fast as his political feet would carry him for several years, just as everybody knows Richard M. Nixon has been running for the presidency since the memory of man runneth not the contrary.

Harold E. Stassen is still running. Nelson Rockefeller is running. George Wallace is running. Lyndon Johnson is running. John Lindsay is running. Ronald Reagan is running. It's a stampede. But it's not official yet.

In the mythology of the presidential mystery, no one is running until he says he is running. Gov. Romney has the distinction of being first to make an announcement. From now on, Michigan will have to get along the best it can in the absence of a governor who now is an official candidate for the Republican Party's presidential nomination.

This is a curious state of affairs — part of the mythology.

Voters elect officials to preside over public affairs, then sit by while the officials take an unauthorized leave of absence to run for some other job. It happens all the time, and no one is upset about it.

It's as though voters thought of their officials as race horses and wanted them to run their heads off for the glory and profit of the body politic.

By this time next year Michigan either will have lost a governor, or gained a presidential candidate — not necessary a winner.

The 1968 campaign is under way!

If At First You Don't Succeed–

Aid And Comfort

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

My good friend, Kronig, was a picture of despair.

"What's the matter, Kronig?" I wanted to know.

"I can't help it," he said. "Every time I open my mouth I give aid and comfort to the enemy."

Art Buchwald

"But how?" I demanded.

"I don't agree with President Johnson's policies in Vietnam. And he said that every time we say we don't agree with him, Hanoi is encouraged and wants to continue the war."

"That's true, Kronig," I said. "The President knows from whence he speaks. North Vietnam would probably be at the negotiating table right now if people like you didn't oppose President Johnson's policies."

"But that's just the point," Kronig cried. "I haven't opened my trap for six months and we're not anywhere nearer resolving the problem than we were before."

"YOU MEAN YOU haven't been loudly and openly opposing President Johnson on Vietnam for six months?"

"That's right," Kronig said. "Six months ago I made a decision. I decided that according to Dean Rusk and Hubert Humphrey and President Johnson the only reason Hanoi would not cave in was because Ho Chi Minh thought the country was divided on our role in Vietnam. I took an oath not to say a word against President Johnson.

"I advocated stronger bombing, closing the port of Haiphong, defoliation of the DMZ, building a wall between the borders —everything that Johnson wanted. I signed an advertisement supporting the Joint Chiefs of Staff. I marched in the American Legion parade. And after doing all that, Hanoi still wouldn't come to the negotiating table."

"It's true, Kronig, that you have a right to be discouraged. But these things take time. You can't just stop criticizing President Johnson for six months and think the picture in Vietnam is going to change. This thing may take years."

"You mean I can't criticize President Johnson for years?"

"Not unless you want to give aid and comfort to the enemy," I said.

"But what about the elections in 1968?" Kronig said.

"YOU HAVE TO be especially careful during the elections of 1968. You see, Kronig, Hanoi is going to be watching us very carefully in '68. If there is any indication that voters don't agree with President Johnson on Vietnam, then Hanoi will fight harder. The only way to deliver a defeat to the North Vietnamese is to elect President Johnson in a landslide."

"But what about the Republicans?" Kronig asked. "If they put up a candidate in 1968, won't they be giving aid and comfort to the enemy, too?"

"Yes, they will, Kronig, and this is what President Johnson is trying to tell them. If the Republicans would refrain from running anyone in 1968, Hanoi might cave in overnight."

"Why don't we pass up the elections in '68 altogether?" Kronig said.

"If this would shorten the war, President Johnson would probably be for it."

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The East Liverpool Junior Women's Club would like to thank the entire community for helping our program on venereal disease to be such a wonderful success.

We spoke to 398 students at East Junior High, 1,002 at Westgate and 1,223 at East Liverpool High School. The response was tremendous, and from their questions following the film, Fred Martich, Ohio Department of Health aide, advised us we very definitely have cases of VD in the schools.

The club has done all it can now to initiate this VD program, but since we know there are 1,500 new cases of VD daily in the nation, it is going to take the help and understanding of each individual in our community to eradicate this is infectious malignancy.

We would like to especially thank the Keystone Printing Co. for giving advertisement cards to promote the program; the board of education for accepting the program for the students; Assistant School Supt. Carl Pelini for helping form a speakers bureau; to The Review for publicity; to radio station WOHI for tremendous support and Jerry Nachman for street interviews; all the clubs and organizations for endorsing the film; Miss Selma Ladzinske, city health nurse; Hall China Co. for a teapot gift for Mr. Martich; Rev. Gene Toot of Trinity United Presbyterian Church and Mr. Martich who came here without charge and furnished the film without cost and thanked us for letting him come to help. Without him, there would not have been a program.

The Junior Women's Club is proud to be the first to donate toward the purchase of the film so it may be used throughout our community so others may learn of the causes, preventives, treatments and cures of the disease. The cost of the film is $180. Anyone wishing to contribute may notify club members or me.

MRS. VIRGINIA SMITH
Chairman of VD Program

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

On behalf of a friend, I am taking this opportunity at Thanksgiving time to tell you and all the good people of your city that one person forgot to be thankful on June 13, 1967, when she lost her purse in Phoenix, Ariz. It was turned in to the police where she got it with all the contents intact.

Why didn't she call or write a note to the lady who found it? Surely the people in your city are more appreciative than that. There was a possibility that this person could never have found her purse. Did she ever think of that and all the trouble this kind lady went through to see that this woman got her purse?

Even the police and bus people were amazed at this middle-aged couple who didn't have the good common sense that it takes to be thankful.

Furthermore, the lady who found the purse is a retired teacher from Pennsylvania. She believes and always taught that, "Honesty is the best policy."

Mr. Editor, you may publish this in your editorial section of the paper you edit. Thank you and best wishes for your city's fine newspaper.

All the people in your city who will come to Phoenix, Ariz., shall have a warm welcome as I always have when I get here.

Fish Story

A bronze doorknob shaped like a fish opens the way to Iceland's Ministry of Commerce.

The symbol is appropriate. The island republic in the North Atlantic earns more than 90 per cent of its money from fishing.

Cod, herring, halibut and haddock — exported fresh, frozen, filleted, smoked, salted, dried, or processed as oil and fertilizer — bring in vital foreign exchange that enables the country to buy timber, steel and other necessities.

The fishing industry traditionally has buoyed Iceland's standard of living so that its 192,000 people live very well, the National Geographic Society says.

Television aerials sprout from handsome homes in the capital city, Reykjavik. Nearly all farms are mechanized and every fifth Icelander owns a car. At the peak of a good cod season, an industrious fisherman may earn more than a government minister.

Affluent Iceland could face leaner days, however. Other fishing nations, including Peru, Poland and South Africa, are competing with Icelandic fish and driving prices down.

Adding to the problem of over-supply, herring moved out of Icelandic waters last year, forcing the local trawlers to go farther afield.

Tire Trouble

By James Marlow

Romney's 'Vagueness' Cited

WASHINGTON

George Romney, the onetime auto-maker, is going to have to patch up his old car or build a brand new one if he hopes for a chance among other Republicans racing for the GOP presidential nomination.

The Michigan governor proved he thinks he has a chance by formally announcing his candidacy last week. He was the second Republican to do so. Earlier last week Harold Stassen, who never takes no for an answer, also announced.

But the candidate - image Romney has been presenting incessantly but informally for many months looks a little dilapidated in the public opinion polls. At one time they showed him leading all his party's would-be candidates.

Over the weekend the Gallup poll showed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon leading with 42 per cent. New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller second with 15 per cent, and Romney third with 14 per cent.

This might seem a little discouraging to anyone but Romney, for while he has been running around like a man with an 8-cylinder engine, feeling pulses and seeking support, Rockefeller has steadily insisted he doesn't want the nomination.

ROMNEY HAS put four kinds of nails in his tires: By contradicting himself, his vagueness on national issues, being insufficiently informed on them, and by boners, like saving U.S. officials "brainwashed" him in Vietnam.

The vagueness was conspicuous Saturday when he made his announcement. He hardly said anything more specific than, "One who aspires to the presidency should be confident he can be useful and capable of providing the needed leadership."

Then Sunday he was questioned by newsmen when he appeared on CBS television's "Face the Nation." He started out saying he thought he could do better than President Johnson in finding a solution to the Vietnamese war.

After that he didn't have an easy time with the newsmen who wanted to find out why he thought so. He was reminded there has been a lot of caustic doubt about his ability to rise and shine in the presidency.

Romney replied that if anyone checked his statements on Vietnam, all the way back, he would find the governor had been consistent except when "I stated frankly. . .that I had changed my mind."

But he hadn't been consistent. Changing his mind and even reversing himself was perhaps the most conspicuous feature of his statements.

He said on Sept. 4 he had changed his mind and has said little since. Sept. 4 was the day he said he had been brainwashed when he visited Vietnam with nine other governors. They refuted his brainwashing charge later.

He got such a bad reaction on this one, since it envisioned an American president who could be brainwashed some day if Romney moved into the White House, that on Sept. 9 he thought it necessary to explain what he meant by brainwashing.

HIS EXPLANATION didn't add much. He said he didn't mean "the Russian type brainwashing." In using that word, he told reporters, he meant the same thing "you mean when you write about the credibility gap, snow jobs, and manipulation of the news."

Sunday he offered a solution for the Vietnamese war, a quite different one from his earlier days when he was all for bombing North Vietnam. This time he said Vietnam should be neutralized.

When pressed to explain how, he didn't go beyond saying the neutralizing should be done by some international group. How? He said this group would have to persuade the Vietnamese neutralization was the best thing for them.

Then he explained he is in the process of studying the problem. But, judging from his past performance, if he studies the problem enough he may change his mind.

This was at the root of his Sept. 4 statement about changing his mind on Vietnam. At that time he said the change came after he had delved into a history of that country.

This could be interpreted as meaning he had never been well informed — until he read a history — on a problem he had been talking about with great positiveness for a couple of years.

France touched off a chain reaction by beginning a policy of converting dollars into gold early in 1965. Following the lead of France, Spain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Switzerland converted sizable dollar holdings into gold, too.

The United States government has taken steps to shore up sagging confidence in the dollar and slow the gold drain. While helping to some extent, moves on several fronts have not removed the pressure on the dollar nor removed the threat of devaluation.

The pound devaluation is a further threat to the dollar. Full consequence of the British decision is problematic. Whatever happens, however, will have a direct bearing on dollars.

Britain is not out of the financial woods yet — and neither is the United States.

Romney Makes It Official

Michigan Gov. George Romney, forthright in all things, has taken his countrymen out of theoretical suspense by announcing he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968.

Actually, there was no suspense. Everybody knew Gov. Romney had been running as fast as his political feet would carry him for several years, just as everybody knows Richard M. Nixon has been running for the presidency since the memory of man runneth not the contrary.

Harold E. Stassen is still running. Nelson Rockefeller is running. George Wallace is running. Lyndon Johnson is running. John Lindsay is running. Ronald Reagan is running. It's a stampede. But it's not official yet.

In the mythology of the presidential mystery, no one is running until he says he is running. Gov. Romney has the distinction of being first to make an announcement. From now on, Michigan will have to get along the best it can in the absence of a governor who now is an official candidate for the Republican Party's presidential nomination.

This is a curious state of affairs — part of the mythology.

Voters elect officials to preside over public affairs, then sit by while the officials take an unauthorized leave of absence to run for some other job. It happens all the time, and no one is upset about it.

It's as though voters thought of their officials as race horses and wanted them to run their heads off for the glory and profit of the body politic.

By this time next year Michigan either will have lost a governor, or gained a presidential candidate — not necessary a winner.

The 1968 campaign is under way!

If At First You Don't Succeed–

Aid And Comfort

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

My good friend, Kronig, was a picture of despair.

"What's the matter, Kronig?" I wanted to know.

"I can't help it," he said. "Every time I open my mouth I give aid and comfort to the enemy."

Art Buchwald

"But how?" I demanded.

"I don't agree with President Johnson's policies in Vietnam. And he said that every time we say we don't agree with him, Hanoi is encouraged and wants to continue the war."

"That's true, Kronig," I said. "The President knows from whence he speaks. North Vietnam would probably be at the negotiating table right now if people like you didn't oppose President Johnson's policies."

"But that's just the point," Kronig cried. "I haven't opened my trap for six months and we're not anywhere nearer resolving the problem than we were before."

"YOU MEAN YOU haven't been loudly and openly opposing President Johnson on Vietnam for six months?"

"That's right," Kronig said. "Six months ago I made a decision. I decided that according to Dean Rusk and Hubert Humphrey and President Johnson the only reason Hanoi would not cave in was because Ho Chi Minh thought the country was divided on our role in Vietnam. I took an oath not to say a word against President Johnson.

"I advocated stronger bombing, closing the port of Haiphong, defoliation of the DMZ, building a wall between the borders —everything that Johnson wanted. I signed an advertisement supporting the Joint Chiefs of Staff. I marched in the American Legion parade. And after doing all that, Hanoi still wouldn't come to the negotiating table."

"It's true, Kronig, that you have a right to be discouraged. But these things take time. You can't just stop criticizing President Johnson for six months and think the picture in Vietnam is going to change. This thing may take years."

"You mean I can't criticize President Johnson for years?"

"Not unless you want to give aid and comfort to the enemy," I said.

"But what about the elections in 1968?" Kronig said.

"YOU HAVE TO be especially careful during the elections of 1968. You see, Kronig, Hanoi is going to be watching us very carefully in '68. If there is any indication that voters don't agree with President Johnson on Vietnam, then Hanoi will fight harder. The only way to deliver a defeat to the North Vietnamese is to elect President Johnson in a landslide."

"But what about the Republicans?" Kronig asked. "If they put up a candidate in 1968, won't they be giving aid and comfort to the enemy, too?"

"Yes, they will, Kronig, and this is what President Johnson is trying to tell them. If the Republicans would refrain from running anyone in 1968, Hanoi might cave in overngiht."

"Why don't we pass up the elections in '68 altogether?" Kronig said.

"If this would shorten the war, President Johnson would probably be for it."

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The East Liverpool Junior Women's Club would like to thank the entire community for helping our program on venereal disease to be such a wonderful success.

We spoke to 398 students at East Junior High, 1,002 at Westgate and 1,223 at East Liverpool High School. The response was tremendous, and from their questions following the film, Fred Martich, Ohio Department of Health aide, advised us we very definitely have cases of VD in the schools.

The club has done all it can now to initiate this VD program, but since we know there are 1,500 new cases of VD daily in the nation, it is going to take the help and understanding of each individual in our community to eradicate this is infectious malignancy.

We would like to especially thank the Keystone Printing Co. for giving advertisement cards to promote the program; the board of education for accepting the program for the students; Assistant School Supt. Carl Pelini for helping form a speakers bureau; to The Review for publicity; to radio station WOHI for tremendous support and Jerry Nachman for street interviews; all the clubs and organizations for endorsing the film; Miss Selma Ladzinske, city health nurse; Hall China Co. for a teapot gift for Mr. Martich; Rev. Gene Toot of Trinity United Presbyterian Church and Mr. Martich who came here without charge and furnished the film without cost and thanked us for letting him come to help. Without him, there would not have been a program.

The Junior Women's Club is proud to be the first to donate toward the purchase of the film so it may be used throughout our community so others may learn of the causes, preventives, treatments and cures of the disease. The cost of the film is $180. Anyone wishing to contribute may notify club members or me.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

On behalf of a friend, I am taking this opportunity at Thanksgiving time to tell you and all the good people of your city that one person forgot to be thankful on June 13, 1967, when she lost her purse in Phoenix, Ariz. It was turned in to the police where she got it with all the contents intact.

Why didn't she call or write a note to the lady who found it? Surely the people in your city are more appreciative than that. There was a possibility that this person could never have found her purse. Did she ever think of that and all the trouble this kind lady went through to see that this woman got her purse?

Even the police and bus people were amazed at this middle-aged couple who didn't have the good common sense that it takes to be thankful.

Furthermore, the lady who found the purse is a retired teacher from Pennsylvania. She believes and always taught that, "Honesty is the best policy."

Mr. Editor, you may publish this in your editorial section of the paper you edit. Thank you and best wishes for your city's fine newspaper.

All the people in your city who will come to Phoenix, Ariz., shall have a warm welcome as I always have when I get here.

Fish Story

A bronze doorknob shaped like a fish opens the way to Iceland's Ministry of Commerce.

The symbol is appropriate. The island republic in the North Atlantic earns more than 90 per cent of its money from fishing.

Cod, herring, halibut and haddock — exported fresh, frozen, filleted, smoked, salted, dried, or processed as oil and fertilizer — bring in vital foreign exchange that enables the country to buy timber, steel and other necessities.

The fishing industry traditionally has buoyed Iceland's standard of living so that its 192,000 people live very well, the National Geographic Society says.

Television aerials sprout from handsome homes in the capital city, Reykjavik. Nearly all farms are mechanized and every fifth Icelander owns a car. At the peak of a good cod season, an industrious fisherman may earn more than a government minister.

Affluent Iceland could face leaner days, however. Other fishing nations, including Peru, Poland and South Africa, are competing with Icelandic fish and driving prices down.

Adding to the problem of over-supply, herring moved out of Icelandic waters last year, forcing the local trawlers to go farther afield.

Tire Trouble

By James Marlow

Romney's 'Vagueness' Cited

WASHINGTON

George Romney, the onetime auto-maker, is going to have to patch up his old car or build a brand new one if he hopes for a chance among other Republicans racing for the GOP presidential nomination.

The Michigan governor proved he thinks he has a chance by formally announcing his candidacy last week. He was the second Republican to do so. Earlier last week Harold Stassen, who never takes no for an answer, also announced.

But the candidate - image Romney has been presenting incessantly but informally for many months looks a little dilapidated in the public opinion polls. At one time they showed him leading all his party's would-be candidates.

Over the weekend the Gallup poll showed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon leading with 42 per cent. New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller second with 15 per cent, and Romney third with 14 per cent.

This might seem a little discouraging to anyone but Romney, for while he has been running around like a man with an 8-cylinder engine, feeling pulses and seeking support, Rockefeller has steadily insisted he doesn't want the nomination.

ROMNEY HAS put four kinds of nails in his tires: By contradicting himself, his vagueness on national issues, being insufficiently informed on them, and by boners, like saving U.S. officials "brainwashed" him in Vietnam.

The vagueness was conspicuous Saturday when he made his announcement. He hardly said anything more specific than, "One who aspires to the presidency should be confident he can be useful and capable of providing the needed leadership."

Then Sunday he was questioned by newsmen when he appeared on CBS television's "Face the Nation." He started out saying he thought he could do better than President Johnson in finding a solution to the Vietnamese war.

After that he didn't have an easy time with the newsmen who wanted to find out why he thought so. He was reminded there has been a lot of caustic doubt about his ability to rise and shine in the presidency.

Romney replied that if anyone checked his statements on Vietnam, all the way back, he would find the governor had been consistent except when "I stated frankly. . .that I had changed my mind."

But he hadn't been consistent. Changing his mind and even reversing himself was perhaps the most conspicuous feature of his statements.

He said on Sept. 4 he had changed his mind and has said little since. Sept. 4 was the day he said he had been brainwashed when he visited Vietnam with nine other governors. They refuted his brainwashing charge later.

He got such a bad reaction on this one, since it envisioned an American president who could be brainwashed some day if Romney moved into the White House, that on Sept. 9 he thought it necessary to explain what he meant by brainwashing.

HIS EXPLANATION didn't add much. He said he didn't mean "the Russian type brainwashing." In using that word, he told reporters, he meant the same thing "you mean when you write about the credibility gap, snow jobs, and manipulation of the news."

Sunday he offered a solution for the Vietnamese war, a quite different one from his earlier days when he was all for bombing North Vietnam. This time he said Vietnam should be neutralized.

When pressed to explain how, he didn't go beyond saying the neutralizing should be done by some international group. How? He said this group would have to persuade the Vietnamese neutralization was the best thing for them.

Then he explained he is in the process of studying the problem. But, judging from his past performance, if he studies the problem enough he may change his mind.

This was at the root of his Sept. 4 statement about changing his mind on Vietnam. At that time he said the change came after he had delved into a history of that country.

This could be interpreted as meaning he had never been well informed — until he read a history — on a problem he had been talking about with great positiveness for a couple of years.

Pay Hikes

Cooper, who did not run for a new term.

Norman Bucher and Floyd Murray, the other two Democratic members of Council, joined with the four Republicans in enacting the raises for the auditor and treasurer. It was a combination of a Republican and a Democrat (Duffy and Mrs. Wilson) that held up final passage of the raise for the new Democratic solicitor.

Zollinger's salary will advance from $4,200 to $6,000, while Dawson's will go up from $1,600 to $1,800 a year. A raise from $4,200 to $6,000 also is proposed for the solicitor.

Zollinger's raise was enacted first. Duffy commented that he believes the auditor is entitled to a higher salary, but added, "I feel this is too much." He said he would vote for a $5,000 salary, rather than $6,000.

"The finances of the city are in bad shape," he said. "This is a $150-a-month raise."

"Even if this passes, he'll still be the lowest paid auditor of any city this size in Ohio," Sample replied.

—:—

THE RAISE was supported by James Lowe, Bucher, Maylone, Murray, Sample and Mrs. Wilson, with only Duffy dissenting. Each piece of legislation required six affirmative votes for passage because all contained an emergency clause which means the ordinances will take effect as soon as they are signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

The final vote was the same on the raise for Dawson.

"This is a part - time job that pays $1,600 a year," Duffy said. "Why pay more?"

Maylone replied that the job entails "a lot of work and responsibility," but Duffy disagreed.

When Kapp's proposed salary was presented, Duffy declared that the solicitor's post "is a part - time job and he has an assistant."

"Why do we pay an attorney $6,000 a year to spend an hour a day in court?" he asked. "Why don't we do away with the assistant? He doesn't need an assistant. One man could do the job."

(Actually it is the assistant solicitor who serves as prosecutor in Municipal Court, not the solicitor).

"I agree with Mr. Duffy," Mrs. Wilson said. "It's a part-time job. I will go along with $5,000. A lot of people in this town only make $4,000 a year working full time."

—:—

"THE SOLICITOR works a lot more than an hour a day," Sample said. "I don't think he makes a dollar an hour for all the time he puts in. In addition to doing Council's work, he is the adviser to all other city officials and boards and commissions."

"The work load is increasing," Bucher said, citing new zoning and building regulations under the city's "master plan." "The solicitor serves other boards. I think we should all vote for this raise, especially us Democrats," he said pointedly to Duffy.

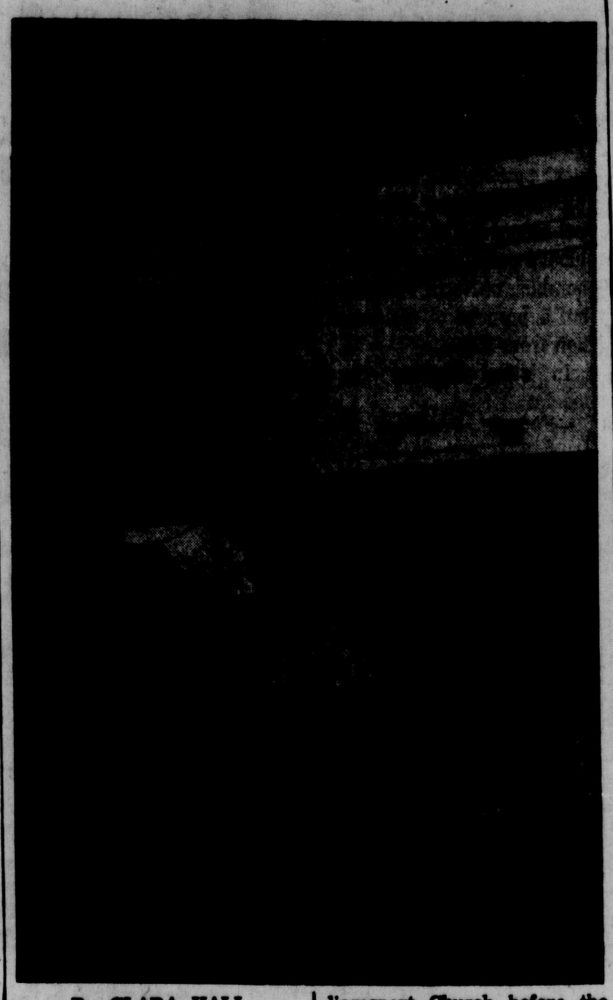
"I don't care if he is a Democrat," Duffy replied. "If he does work for the other boards, including the school board, why don't they help pay his salary?"

Murray commented he favored the raise for the solicitor. He added that he believes Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey also are entitled to pay hikes.

Then the vote was taken on the solicitor's salary, resulting in the 5-2 split. A moment later Council scheduled the two special meetings for next Monday and Tuesday nights to give the legislation second and third readings.

Birthday Observed

90 Years Young



By CLARA HALL

Life seems to be just a "bowl of cherries" for Mrs. Blanche Williams of the Echo Dell Rd., who is celebrating her 90th birthday anniversary today full of "vim, vigor and vitality."

Small of stature but mighty in deeds, she has been living by herself for 20 years in the 100-year-old home at Beaver Creek State Park doing all her own housework, carrying in the coal for the fireplace and tending to the myriad duties required in gardening.

Born in 1877 in Elkrun Township, Mrs. Williams is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Levi Hickman. She has lived all of her life within a radius of five miles. Her mother's maiden name was Alice Henry.

Her father was the last operator of historic Gaston's Mill, which he sold to the state in 1949. Mrs. Williams was working at the mill from the time she was 17 doing such menial jobs as filling the grain hoppers and feeding the corn sheller.

She and her husband, Denver Williams, who died in 1947, operated the Clarkson Hotel for six years before settling in the present home, where she has lived for 50 years. They were the parents of a son, Donald Williams, who resides in Clarkson, and a daughter Gladys Williams Lyons, who died five years ago. She has three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Williams, an excellent cook, prepares three full meals a day for herself. She has no favorite foods, but likes everything and has plenty of "meat and taters."

Mrs. Williams, an advocate of the slogan, "early to bed and early to rise," goes to bed at 8 and arises before the sun appears in the spring and summer, when she takes care of her flower and vegetable gardens. With no early chores in the winter, she stays in bed as late as 8 in the morning. As a farmer wife, she became accustomed to early rising.

She has been a life - long member of the Williamsport Chapel, known as the Williamsport Church before the restoration. The name of the non - denominational congregation has no connection with her family.

A proud possessor of the Golden Sheaf award, Mrs. Williams is a charter member and has held membership for 50 years in Clarkson Grange No. 1802.

She reigned as queen of the Columbiana County Fair at Lisbon in 1964 and as grand queen in 1965.

Although she has no particular hobbies, she sews, listens to the radio and reads the newspaper, which seems to her the highlight of the day.

She has no desire for a television set, although the children have offered to buy one for her.

Mrs. Williams' recipe for longevity is: "Live right and you'll make it."

UN Council OK Due British Mideast Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite a new Soviet delay, informed sources said today that the British Middle East peace plan is assured of approval when the Security Council meets again Wednesday afternoon.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov obtained the 48-hour delay by introducing a proposal containing some of the provisions of the British plan. But they were worded in such a way that the resolution was immediately labeled pro-Arab.

Court

of the claim, if available, he added.

The law provides that the creditor and the debtor will appear before the judge or a referee for an informal hearing on the claim. The law provides that the judge or referee will "endeavor to conciliate" the claim. It also provides that the judge may allow the defendant to make weekly payments to the court on any judgment that is returned.

The law provides for a default judgment if the defendant does not appear. It also allows the court to dismiss the action for lack of prosecution if the plaintiff does not appear. There are provisions for summoning of witnesses.

The judge pointed out that the law allows him to appoint an administrative assistant to handle the paper work involved in the new procedures, as well as a referee—who must be an attorney—to hear the cases.

But he said neither of the appointments will be made unless the press of business shows that it is necessary. The court's present staff will aid plaintiffs in filing forms in the new small claims division. The judge will hear the cases, setting aside an afternoon or two a week and —if necessary—operating new night sessions. The judge said night hearings will be held if the parties cannot appear during the regular business day.

"Notwithstanding the provisions of the law, I will not appoint eitither a referee or an administrative assistant until I find how many cases are filed under this new system," the judge said. "I refuse to spend the city's money unless it is warranted. I fully intend to hear the cases myself unless the job becomes overwhelming."

After the small claim has been filed, the court will issue a summons to the defendant. The law requires that the case will be heard within 20 days at most. The actions may be filed by any one within the court's jurisdiction, which covers East Liverpool and Liverpool Township.

The law allows the court to limit the number of claims which may be filed within a specified time by any single person or firm. It provides that in filing a case in a small claims court, the right of a jury trial is waived. However, it permits an appeal, if desired, to Common Pleas Court from the action of the local court.

After obtaining judgment, the plaintiff will be required to file the proper legal papers if he wishes to attach the wages or property of the defendant in order to collect, the judge pointed out.

In another change, the monetary limit on cases which can be heard in Municipal Court will be raised from $3,000 to $5,000, effective Dec. 14. It may result in filing of more civil actions in the local court in auto accident cases — suits which formerly were heard at Common Pleas Court in Lisbon.

In another change, a new law requires that when judgment is obtained on a cognovit note, the court must send notice to the defendant by registered mail at his last known address, which must be furnished by the plaintiff.

They were the parents of a son, Donald Williams, who resides in Clarkson, and a daughter Gladys Williams Lyons, who died five years ago. She has three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Williams, an excellent cook, prepares three full meals a day for herself. She has no favorite foods, but likes everything and has plenty of "meat and taters."

Mrs. Williams, an advocate of the slogan, "early to bed and early to rise," goes to bed at 8 and arises before the sun appears in the spring and summer, when she takes care of her flower and vegetable gardens. With no early chores in the winter, she stays in bed as late as 8 in the morning. As a farmer wife, she became accustomed to early rising.

She has been a life - long member of the Williamsport Chapel, known as the Williamsport Church before the restoration. The name of the non - denominational congregation has no connection with her family.

A proud possessor of the Golden Sheaf award, Mrs. Williams is a charter member and has held membership for 50 years in Clarkson Grange No. 1802.

She reigned as queen of the Columbiana County Fair at Lisbon in 1964 and as grand queen in 1965.

Although she has no particular hobbies, she sews, listens to the radio and reads the newspaper, which seems to her the highlight of the day.

She has no desire for a television set, although the children have offered to buy one for her.

Mrs. Williams' recipe for longevity is: "Live right and you'll make it."

UN Council OK Due British Mideast Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite a new Soviet delay, informed sources said today that the British Middle East peace plan is assured of approval when the Security Council meets again Wednesday afternoon.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov obtained the 48-hour delay by introducing a proposal containing some of the provisions of the British plan. But they were worded in such a way that the resolution was immediately labeled pro-Arab.

Court

of the claim, if available, he added.

The law provides that the creditor and the debtor will appear before the judge or a referee for an informal hearing on the claim. The law provides that the judge or referee will "endeavor to conciliate" the claim. It also provides that the judge may allow the defendant to make weekly payments to the court on any judgment that is returned.

The law provides for a default judgment if the defendant does not appear. It also allows the court to dismiss the action for lack of prosecution if the plaintiff does not appear. There are provisions for summoning of witnesses.

The judge pointed out that the law allows him to appoint an administrative assistant to handle the paper work involved in the new procedures, as well as a referee—who must be an attorney—to hear the cases.

But he said neither of the appointments will be made unless the press of business shows that it is necessary. The court's present staff will aid plaintiffs in filing forms in the new small claims division. The judge will hear the cases, setting aside an afternoon or two a week and —if necessary—operating new night sessions. The judge said night hearings will be held if the parties cannot appear during the regular business day.

"Notwithstanding the provisions of the law, I will not appoint eitither a referee or an administrative assistant until I find how many cases are filed under this new system," the judge said. "I refuse to spend the city's money unless it is warranted. I fully intend to hear the cases myself unless the job becomes overwhelming."

After the small claim has been filed, the court will issue a summons to the defendant. The law requires that the case will be heard within 20 days at most. The actions may be filed by any one within the court's jurisdiction, which covers East Liverpool and Liverpool Township.

The law allows the court to limit the number of claims which may be filed within a specified time by any single person or firm. It provides that in filing a case in a small claims court, the right of a jury trial is waived. However, it permits an appeal, if desired, to Common Pleas Court from the action of the local court.

After obtaining judgment, the plaintiff will be required to file the proper legal papers if he wishes to attach the wages or property of the defendant in order to collect, the judge pointed out.

In another change, the monetary limit on cases which can be heard in Municipal Court will be raised from $3,000 to $5,000, effective Dec. 14. It may result in filing of more civil actions in the local court in auto accident cases — suits which formerly were heard at Common Pleas Court in Lisbon.

In another change, a new law requires that when judgment is obtained on a cognovit note, the court must send notice to the defendant by registered mail at his last known address, which must be furnished by the plaintiff.

Boy Suspended From School Due To Hair Now In London

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ernest A. Towner says his 14-year-old son, Carl — suspended from North Olmsted Junior High School because of his shoulder-length hair — has been sent to England to avoid possible return to the juvenile detention home.

"I feel that it would have killed my wife if he had gone back into that place." the father said Monday after Juvenile Court Judge John J. Toner denied a motion for a new trial.

Towner said his wife, Carl and another son—Kurt, 10—are living near London and the boys will attend school there. Kurt, whose hair also is shoulder-length, has been accepted in a school "and Carl has his interview tomorrow (Tuesday)," Towner said.

Carl was suspended by the principal at North Olmsted Junior High last Sept. 29 because the boy refused to conform with a school regulation governing the length of pupils' hair.

Three weeks later Carl was found delinquent at a juvenile court hearing and held overnight in the detention home. Judge Toner then released the boy to the custody of his parents with instructions either to get his hair cut or get him accepted by another school by Nov. 20.

Carl has been working with a tutor since his suspension.

"There just wasn't enough time to get him into a school," said Towner, a British citizen who came to the United States 10 years ago.

He said he plans to stay in Cleveland to carry on his son's fight and look after his own business, a paper products firm but hopes to join his family for Christmas.

Defense lawyer John H. Ober said he would appeal Judge Toner's denial for a new trial.

'Nixon, Romney Doing Homework For Spring Drills'

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

In his spacious Manhattan law office, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon prepares a book on the issues confronting America.

A third of a continent away, beneath the dome of Michigan's state capitol, Gov. George Romney polishes a proposed Vietnam policy alternative.

Even as Nixon and Romney devote long hours to what one's aide calls "homework for next spring's drills," their supporters are ranging from New Hampshire's rocky hills to California's sunny suburbs, wooing potential convention delegates, building state organizations and raising money.

Though largely veiled from public view, this maneuvering for the Republican presidential nomination has been under way for months. Now, with Romney an announced candidate and Nixon all but one, the scramble is bursting into the open.

Meanwhile the self-styled "noncandidates" are by no means idle.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan resumes his out-of-state appearances next month. Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy is continuing an extensive speaking schedule while considering a trip to Vietnam.

And while New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller insists he doesn't want to be president, sources say his supporters are taking soundings of his strength in the Midwest.

Political pros in Washington and other key cities say Nixon is far ahead in the race for the nomination to oppose President Johnson's expected re-election bid. Most polls reach the same conclusion.

Romney supporters, while conceding they trail Nixon at least two-to-one in New Hampshire are banking on a strong showing in that state's March 12 presidential primary. They say, and Nixon strategists agree, that the Michigan governor is at his best in the personal contact campaigning he plans in New Hampshire.

Romney, who plans a globe-girdling trip beginning early next month, was in Washington Monday assailing Johnson's fiscal record but backing the President's policy of not halting U.S. bombing of North Vietnam without a promise of reciprocal action from Hanoi.

In other Monday developments:

—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in Washington for a medical checkup, said he doesn't plan to play a major role in the 1968 presidential campaign whoever his fellow Republicans nominate.

—New York Mayor John V. Lindsay told newsmen in Washington he won't be a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination now or in the future.

—The chairman of Georgia's Democratic organization, James Gray, said in Atlanta he believes there's a strong possibility Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., will replace Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on the party's 1968 ticket.

Yule Fete Set By MD Group

LISBON — The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Columbiana County will hold a Christmas party for MD patients and their families Dec. 10 at 3 p.m. at VFW Post 4111 on E. Lincoln Way.

Harry Glaven of East Palestine, president, conducted the planning session Monday night at the VFW home. He appointed four members to assist him with arrangements—Mrs. Rudy Novak and Miss Catherine McKee, both of Lisbon, Mrs. Norman Mattern Sr. of Wellsville RD and Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Rogers.

James Lang of radio station WOHI in East Liverpool will be master of ceremonies and perform feats of magic. Santa Claus will distribute gifts to the youngsters and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Jenkins, chapter treasurer and patient services chairman, said the association is helping care for 23 patients.

She said $1,377 — only about one-third of the quota — has been received to date in the annual appeal for funds for 1967. The chapter voted to extend the drive another four weeks. Contributions may be forwarded to Mrs. Ruth Jenkins, Box 172, Rogers.

There will be no December meeting because of the party. The association will meet Jan. 15 at the VFW home. Mrs. Jenkins and Floyd Troxall of Columbus, district MD director, spoke on WOHI's "At Your Service" program last week.

Mom's new flame gives her something in common with a pretty exciting crowd—over 90% of all of the professional chefs.

They're all cooking with Gas. For several sound reasons.

Gas cooks faster than electricity. Chefs who supervise the preparation of hundreds of meals a day just haven't time to wait for pokey electric ranges to heat up or cool down.

These men and women whose reputations depend on their cooking choose Gas ranges because Gas cooks better than electricity . . . makes food taste better and look more appetizing. The 1,001 shades of heat that only a modern Gas range can give lets them—and you—bake, broil, braise, saute, simmer or stew with complete control.

People who cook for a restaurant full of discriminating gourmets—and people who cook for a kitchen full of hungry kids—know they can count on Gas ranges to let them be the good cooks they are.

Bids Studied On City Bonds

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger took under advisement bids received early Monday afternoon from four investment houses on a $34,800 municipal bond issue.

The apparent low bid of 4⅝ per cent, plus a $67.50 premium, was filed by Prescott & Co. of Cleveland. McDonald & Co., also of Cleveland, offered a 5 per cent interest rate with no premium.

Council enacted legislation last night accepting the offer from Prescott & Co.

Zollinger said he will turn over the other two bids to Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper for a ruling, as the firms originally filed offers by mail and then sent telegrams raising the proferred interest rate after the raise in the discount rate ordered over the weekend by the U.S. Federal Reserve System. He said he will ask the solicitor to determine if the bidders had a legal right to raise the proposed interest rate by sending an amendment by telegram.

Magnus & Co. of Cincinnati originally offered a rate of 4½ per cent, plus a $50 premium. In a wire received Monday morning, it asked to raise the rate to 5 per cent.

Sweeney, Cartwright & Co. of Columbus also offered a 4½ per cent rate and a $125.28 premium. Its offer would have been low, except for a wire which it sent Monday asking to raise the interest rate to 5 per cent.

The bonds will be sold to retire notes issued by the city to pay off a judgment returned against the municipality in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in favor of a woman who sued for damages resulting from a fall on a flight of city - maintained steps.

The bonds will mature annually from Dec. 1, 1969, through Dec. 1, 1973. The first installment will carry a face value of $6,800 and the rest will be worth $7,000 each.

City's Dog Pound Due For Move To Site In East End

The city is completing remodeling work in a building adjacent to the equipment maintenance garage in East End as the new site of the city's dog pound, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

The pound will be transferred to one of the buildings on the former Valley Motor Transit Co. carbarn property on Pennsylvania Ave. which the city acquired more than a year ago, the mayor said. A section of the buliding is used now for storage of Civil Defense equipment. The pound will be moved into the same building, with a partition to separate it from the CD space.

Heat, light and water are available for the pound quarters, the mayor explained. The pound has been located temporarily in the old incinerator department furnace building at the foot of Washington St. since it was forced to vacate a brick structure on the sewage plant property in West End a few months ago.

"This will provide a warm, dry, comfortable spot for the animals," the mayor said. "Erecting this partition at a cost of $500 to 600 was far less expensive than constructing a new building, which might have cost several thousand dollars."

Others seeking the center intended to stimulate Ohio exports were Cleveland, Toledo, Lorain, Berea, Columbus, Cincinnati and the Akron-Ravenna area.

Springfield withdrew its bid in favor of Dayton, said Glen W. Allen, head of international trade and development for the State Development Department.

Allen said members of the International Trade Center Committee headed by M. Merle Harrod of Wapakoneta would visit proposed sites before making a recommendation to Gov. James A. Rhodes next month.

The governor told a news conference that a site probably would be chosen early next year for what he called a "showcase for Ohio manufactured products."

Bids Studied On City Bonds

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger took under advisement bids received early Monday afternoon from four investment houses on a $34,800 municipal bond issue.

The apparent low bid of 4⅝ per cent, plus a $67.50 premium, was filed by Prescott & Co. of Cleveland. McDonald & Co., also of Cleveland, offered a 5 per cent interest rate with no premium.

Council enacted legislation last night accepting the offer from Prescott & Co.

Zollinger said he will turn over the other two bids to Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper for a ruling, as the firms originally filed offers by mail and then sent telegrams raising the proferred interest rate after the raise in the discount rate ordered over the weekend by the U.S. Federal Reserve System. He said he will ask the solicitor to determine if the bidders had a legal right to raise the proposed interest rate by sending an amendment by telegram.

Magnus & Co. of Cincinnati originally offered a rate of 4½ per cent, plus a $50 premium. In a wire received Monday morning, it asked to raise the rate to 5 per cent.

Sweeney, Cartwright & Co. of Columbus also offered a 4½ per cent rate and a $125.28 premium. Its offer would have been low, except for a wire which it sent Monday asking to raise the interest rate to 5 per cent.

The bonds will be sold to retire notes issued by the city to pay off a judgment returned against the municipality in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in favor of a woman who sued for damages resulting from a fall on a flight of city - maintained steps.

The bonds will mature annually from Dec. 1, 1969, through Dec. 1, 1973. The first installment will carry a face value of $6,800 and the rest will be worth $7,000 each.

City's Dog Pound Due For Move To Site In East End

The city is completing remodeling work in a building adjacent to the equipment maintenance garage in East End as the new site of the city's dog pound, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

The pound will be transferred to one of the buildings on the former Valley Motor Transit Co. carbarn property on Pennsylvania Ave. which the city acquired more than a year ago, the mayor said. A section of the buliding is used now for storage of Civil Defense equipment. The pound will be moved into the same building, with a partition to separate it from the CD space.

Heat, light and water are available for the pound quarters, the mayor explained. The pound has been located temporarily in the old incinerator department furnace building at the foot of Washington St. since it was forced to vacate a brick structure on the sewage plant property in West End a few months ago.

"This will provide a warm, dry, comfortable spot for the animals," the mayor said. "Erecting this partition at a cost of $500 to 600 was far less expensive than constructing a new building, which might have cost several thousand dollars."

Three More Ohio Cities Bidding For Trade Site

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three more cities make bids today to win Ohio's proposed International Trade Center.

The governor's seven-member committee named to pick a site receives proposals from Dayton and the Lake Erie ports of Huron and Ashtabula to wind up a series of hearings involving a total of 11 cities.

Others seeking the center intended to stimulate Ohio exports were Cleveland, Toledo, Lorain, Berea, Columbus, Cincinnati and the Akron-Ravenna area.

Springfield withdrew its bid in favor of Dayton, said Glen W. Allen, head of international trade and development for the State Development Department.

Allen said members of the International Trade Center Committee headed by M. Merle Harrod of Wapakoneta would visit proposed sites before making a recommendation to Gov. James A. Rhodes next month.

The governor told a news conference that a site probably would be chosen early next year for what he called a "showcase for Ohio manufactured products."

Plane

The cause of the crash was not determined.

A part of the tail of the plane was about all that remained of the jet.

The plane's pilot, Capt. Charles L. Cochran, 45, was listed as a resident of Spring Hill, Kan. and a veteran Marine Corps pilot. He had been flying commercial lines since 1952.

The first officer was listed as Robert Moyers, 33, of Overland Park, Kan.

The accident came just two weeks after another TWA plane crashed at the airport when it failed to make its takeoff. One woman died afterward but her death was not connected directly with the plane crash.

The airliner that crashed here two years ago was an American Airlines Boeing 707.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., offered the amendment to require all states to put into effect by mid-1969 programs to provide welfare aid to families with dependent children and jobless fathers. It was adopted 39 to 36.

Under present law states are not required to include unemployed fathers in welfare assistarce programs and only 22 do so.

Harris said this meant many fathers were leaving their families just to make them eligible for the Aid to Dependent Children program.

The cost of Harris' amendment was estimated at $60 million in federal funds plus $30 million to $35 million in state money.

Three senators from the two largest states, Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., failed in a bid to soften a cutback in federal medicaid funds written into both the House and Senate Finance Committee bills.

Medicaid covers health care for medically indigent persons who are not on welfare but have incomes too low to cover their medical costs. It is separate from medicare.

The three senators said the proposed new restrictions would force either vast new expenditures or sharp program cutbacks in states which have tried to help many low-income families through medicaid. But their amendment to loosen the curbs failed 47 to 25.

Smith urged the community of Midland to get involved in self-help projects. He explained the procedures of initiating a Head Start program and others, such as a Day Care Center, Foster Grandparents and Manpower, to benefit adults as well as children.

He said 40 individuals, aged 16-21 in Beaver County, will be selected by the Neighborhood Youth Corps to be trained in New Careers for Adults at Dixmont State Hospital and will receive $1.40 an hour. the proposal to close the tax exemption on equipment purchases.

But the clothing revenue measure would be about $75 million over an entire fiscal year.

Shafer already has signed into law $114.5 million in increased corporate net income and cigarette taxes to apply to his $1.79 billion budget.

Other highlights:

Bingo—The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would legalize bingo for non-profit organizations and religious and charitable groups in municipalites that approve the game in local referendums. The vote was 150-46.

Milk — The Shafer Administration's previously announced proposal to reform milk price controls in Pennsylvania was formally introduced in the House by Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson Jr., R-Allegheny. The bill would replace the controversial Milk Control Commission with an advisory board, but milk prices actually would be set by the secretary of the agriculture.

Clark To Seek New Term In U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark Jr., D-Pa., announced today he will be a candidate for reelection next year.

Clark, 66, had hinted previously he might retire at the end of his present term, his second in the Senate.

"After much thought I have made the difficult decision to ask the people of Pennsylvania to elect me to one more term as their United States Senator," he said in a statement.

Clark, a critic of the administration's Vietnam policy, emphasized in his announcement his role as a member of the Senate Foregin Relations Committee.

"I have labored consistently and to the utmost of my abilities to further the cause more important than any other in the world: a just and lasting peace; a world based on the rule of law, not arms."

He noted that he is the first Pennsylvania senator in a generation to sit on the committee.

"It is imperative that this important seat be utilized in the cause of peace," he said.

Clark also cited America's domestic social problems and noted that he heads a Senate subcommittee on employment, manpower and poverty.

Father And Son To Seek Seats In Ohio's Assembly

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — A father and son announced today they will campaign as a team for seats in the 1969 General Assembly.

J. Sherman Porter, former state senator, said he will seek the Democratic senatorial nomination in the 18th District composed of the counties of Athens, Gallia, Meigs, Scioto, Lawrence, Jackson and Pike.

James Sherman Porter III will run for nomination to the Ohio House in the 27th District embracing Athens, Gallia and Meigs counties which are a part of the senatorial district.

Both said their campaigns will be directed against Republican Sen. Oakley C. Collins in the 18th, a sponsor of the one-cent sales tax increase for education enacted by the recent legislature, and GOP Rep. Ralph Welker of the 27th who backed the $300 million tax boost.

"When the people of his state had turned down an initiated sales tax increase only two years before," the Porters asserted, "it was brazen flouting of the people's will by Sen. Collins and Rep. Welker in 1967 to impose the same tax."

They referred to rejection by voters of a sales tax increase proposal placed on election ballots by the school lobby.

Open House Set On Anniversary

Bell, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Bell of Signal, is a machinist with the Bellow - Valvair Division of IBEC at Salem.

On the strength of the state hospital report, the court yesterday found the defendant "is presently sane and able to assist his counsel" during the trial which was to have begun next Monday.

Roberts pleaded guilty yesterday only to the indictment covering the holdup at Berlie's Diner. The other case was continued.

Barclay Hill Overpass To Be Removed

The Barcay Hill overpass on Route 68, Industry Borough, will be removed in the near future.

Rep. Robert O. Davis, R-Beaver, of the 13th Legislative District announced today from Harrisburg that the Pennsylvania Department of Highways will open bids Dec. 15 on the project.

It calls for removal of the abandoned Beaver Valley Traction Co. overpass and additional work to the bridge.

Rep. Davis was advised of the action by Robert Bartlett, secretary of highways. Davis said an accompanying map sent him with a letter shows the widening and straightening of the road. Other work on the .11-mile project will include the surfacing of the existing gutter, construction and slope grading of paved shoulders and a temporary runaround while the other work is being done.

Plane

The cause of the crash was not determined.

A part of the tail of the plane was about all that remained of the jet.

The plane's pilot, Capt. Charles L. Cochran, 45, was listed as a resident of Spring Hill, Kan. and a veteran Marine Corps pilot. He had been flying commercial lines since 1952.

The first officer was listed as Robert Moyers, 33, of Overland Park, Kan.

The accident came just two weeks after another TWA plane crashed at the airport when it failed to make its takeoff. One woman died afterward but her death was not connected directly with the plane crash.

The airliner that crashed here two years ago was an American Airlines Boeing 707.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., offered the amendment to require all states to put into effect by mid-1969 programs to provide welfare aid to families with dependent children and jobless fathers. It was adopted 39 to 36.

Under present law states are not required to include unemployed fathers in welfare assistarce programs and only 22 do so.

Harris said this meant many fathers were leaving their families just to make them eligible for the Aid to Dependent Children program.

The cost of Harris' amendment was estimated at $60 million in federal funds plus $30 million to $35 million in state money.

Three senators from the two largest states, Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., failed in a bid to soften a cutback in federal medicaid funds written into both the House and Senate Finance Committee bills.

Medicaid covers health care for medically indigent persons who are not on welfare but have incomes too low to cover their medical costs. It is separate from medicare.

The three senators said the proposed new restrictions would force either vast new expenditures or sharp program cutbacks in states which have tried to help many low-income families through medicaid. But their amendment to loosen the curbs failed 47 to 25.

Other highlights:

Donaldson Jr., R-Allegheny. The bill would replace the controversial Milk Control Commission with an advisory board, but milk prices actually would be set by the secretary of the agriculture.

Clark To Seek New Term In U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark Jr., D-Pa., announced today he will be a candidate for reelection next year.

Clark, 66, had hinted previously he might retire at the end of his present term, his second in the Senate.

"After much thought I have made the difficult decision to ask the people of Pennsylvania to elect me to one more term as their United States Senator," he said in a statement.

Clark, a critic of the administration's Vietnam policy, emphasized in his announcement his role as a member of the Senate Foregin Relations Committee.

"I have labored consistently and to the utmost of my abilities to further the cause more important than any other in the world: a just and lasting peace; a world based on the rule of law, not arms."

He noted that he is the first Pennsylvania senator in a generation to sit on the committee.

"It is imperative that this important seat be utilized in the cause of peace," he said.

Clark also cited America's domestic social problems and noted that he heads a Senate subcommittee on employment, manpower and poverty.

Father And Son To Seek Seats In Ohio's Assembly

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — A father and son announced today they will campaign as a team for seats in the 1969 General Assembly.

J. Sherman Porter, former state senator, said he will seek the Democratic senatorial nomination in the 18th District composed of the counties of Athens, Gallia, Meigs, Scioto, Lawrence, Jackson and Pike.

James Sherman Porter III will run for nomination to the Ohio House in the 27th District embracing Athens, Gallia and Meigs counties which are a part of the senatorial district.

Both said their campaigns will be directed against Republican Sen. Oakley C. Collins in the 18th, a sponsor of the one-cent sales tax increase for education enacted by the recent legislature, and GOP Rep. Ralph Welker of the 27th who backed the $300 million tax boost.

"When the people of his state had turned down an initiated sales tax increase only two years before," the Porters asserted, "it was brazen flouting of the people's will by Sen. Collins and Rep. Welker in 1967 to impose the same tax."

They referred to rejection by voters of a sales tax increase proposal placed on election ballots by the school lobby.

On the strength of the state hospital report, the court yesterday found the defendant "is presently sane and able to assist his counsel" during the trial which was to have begun next Monday.

Barclay Hill Overpass To Be Removed

The Barcay Hill overpass on Route 68, Industry Borough, will be removed in the near future.

Rep. Robert O. Davis, R-Beaver, of the 13th Legislative District announced today from Harrisburg that the Pennsylvania Department of Highways will open bids Dec. 15 on the project.

It calls for removal of the abandoned Beaver Valley Traction Co. overpass and additional work to the bridge.

Rep. Davis was advised of the action by Robert Bartlett, secretary of highways. Davis said an accompanying map sent him with a letter shows the widening and straightening of the road. Other work on the .11-mile project will include the surfacing of the existing gutter, construction and slope grading of paved shoulders and a temporary runaround while the other work is being done.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A word, please, to the 17-year-old girl who got into trouble when her boy friend kissed her on the school premises. She was upset because she said there was no place for teen-agers to go to "discuss life."

If kids really want to discuss life (not make out), I can suggest several places for them to go. Here are just a few: the zoo, a bus depot or an airport, car dealers' showrooms, theater lobbies, the public library, a museum or art gallery. They also can get on a city bus and ride to the end of the line and back.

Please publish this letter for all teen-agers who want privacy and have no imagination. — COOL CAT.

-:-

Dear Cool: Your list sounds fine — all except the car dealers' showrooms. Car dealers might not look kindly on teen-agers who want to sit in their showrooms and discuss life. Thanks for the other suggestions.

Majority Of Two

Dear Ann: Recently my mother-in-law had to make a hurried trip to another city. My husband drove her in his car.

An unavoidable delay made it necessary for them to be away overnight. When they returned my husband told me they had checked into a hotel as Mr. and Mrs. He added hastily, "Twin beds, of course."

My mother-in-law is 67, and while I don't think a stranger would pick them out as a man and wife, one wouldn't pick her out as his mother.

Ntither has money problems and my husband paid for the trip. He could have well afforded the price of a second room.

I'm not questioning the morality of the situation. I am questioning the judgment of these two people. A comment from you, please. — DETROIT.

-:-

Dear Detroit: In an emergency, such a setup would be okay. But since there was no emergency and money is no problem, they should have had separate rooms. The fact that they registered as Mr. and Mrs. made it a little too cute, in my opinion.

Confidentially

To Heart Full of Regret: You should have stayed with him until he "regained his strength." He said he was tired, not dead. Ask for another chance and I hope you get it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Blast Releases Chlorine Gas As Hundreds Flee

PERRY, Ohio (AP)—An explosion at Calhio Chemical Co. plant here Monday night released a cloud of chlorine gas that threatened nearby homes. Police had hundreds of families evacuate their dwellings until the gas had dispersed.

Two of four employes in the plant were admitted to Lake County Memorial Hospital East for treatment of burns and fume inhalation. Both John Hribar, 60, of Maidon and Edward Culpepper, 30, of Painesville were reported in fair condition.

The Lake County Sheriff's Office said "a runaway reaction took place in one of the vessels in the chemical plant, producing a sudden high pressure that dislodged a safety valve and ruptured an escape line."

A visible cloud of gas was moved slowly northward and out into the lake by 10-mile-an-hour winds.

The plant manufactures fertilizers. Most of the places evacuated were north and northwest of here.

Rehearsals For Moon Trip

Three-Man Crews Picked For First Apollo Flights

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Six astronauts, including two who never have ridden a rocket, today held key roles in two forthcoming space rehearsals for America's flight to the moon.

The space agency Monday named three-man crews for the first manned flights atop the Saturn 5 rocket, whose triumphant test journey Nov. 9 gave the moon program the impetus it needed.

Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt, 38, commander of the 1965 Gemini 5 flight, is in charge of the first manned Saturn 5 flight planned for late next year.

Traveling with him will be Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott, 35, veteran of the Gemini 8 flight in 1966 and civilian astronaut Russell L. Schweickart, 32, venturing into space for the first time.

Early in 1969 Air Force Col. Frank Borman, 39, will command the second manned trip aboard a Saturn 5, joined by Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins, 37, and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders, 34. Borman commanded Gemini 7 in 1965, Collins rode Gemini 10 in 1966. Anders is a space rookie.

Once in space the men are to act out vital steps in the moonflight scenario. McDivitt's team is to carry out first manned space testing of the Apollo command craft, its service section and the moonlanding lunar module.

Borman and his colleagues will fly with orders to carry out lunar mission steps the way they would go during an actual flight to the moon.

Their big job will be for the lunar ferry and the command ship to start hundreds of miles apart, find each other and link up in a run-through of the rendezvous required to bring home safely the first Americans who will walk the moon.

The crews named Monday were for the second and third manned flights of the Apollo lunar landing program. The first flight is to go next summer using a more powerful version of the Saturn 1 vehicle.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., 44, will command that flight, joined by civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham, 35, and Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele, 37. U.S. Planes Pound Reds In Rescue Bid

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. artillery and planes today pounded dug-in North Vietnamese gunners delaying the evacuation of scores of wounded U.S. paratroopers trapped on a hillside near Dak To.

U.S. casualties mounted to at least 239 dead and 822 wounded in the 19th day of fighting around the Dak To valley, the second most costly battle of the Vietnam war for the Americans.

It rivaled in intensity the 1965 fighting in the Ia Drang valley —also in the central highlands and also just before Thanksgiving—in which 310 Americans were killed.

Brig. Gen. L. H. Schweiter, commander of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, said the North Vietnamese were dug in so well on Hill 875 the U.S. guns and bombs couldn't hit their bunkers.

"We're going to have to dig them out man by man," he said.

Although the North Vietnamese repeatedly drove off medical heliocpters, a few got through and lifted out five wounded men Monday night and 20 more today. But at least 61 wounded were still with the beleaguered battalions on the hill late Tuesday, AP Correspondent John Lengel reported from the Dak To command post.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. warplanes hit targets in the Hanoi-Haiphong area Monday for the sixth consecutive day and the U.S. Command announced two more U.S. planes were lost, one to a Communist MIG21. One flier was missing.

This brought the total of U.S. combat planes announced lost over the North to 751, including 13 planes and 16 pilots since last Thursday.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A word, please, to the 17-year-old girl who got into trouble when her boy friend kissed her on the school premises. She was upset because she said there was no place for teen-agers to go to "discuss life."

If kids really want to discuss life (not make out), I can suggest several places for them to go. Here are just a few: the zoo, a bus depot or an airport, car dealers' showrooms, theater lobbies, the public library, a museum or art gallery. They also can get on a city bus and ride to the end of the line and back.

Please publish this letter for all teen-agers who want privacy and have no imagination. — COOL CAT.

-:-

Dear Cool: Your list sounds fine — all except the car dealers' showrooms. Car dealers might not look kindly on teen-agers who want to sit in their showrooms and discuss life. Thanks for the other suggestions.

Majority Of Two

Dear Ann: Recently my mother-in-law had to make a hurried trip to another city. My husband drove her in his car.

An unavoidable delay made it necessary for them to be away overnight. When they returned my husband told me they had checked into a hotel as Mr. and Mrs. He added hastily, "Twin beds, of course."

My mother-in-law is 67, and while I don't think a stranger would pick them out as a man and wife, one wouldn't pick her out as his mother.

Ntither has money problems and my husband paid for the trip. He could have well afforded the price of a second room.

I'm not questioning the morality of the situation. I am questioning the judgment of these two people. A comment from you, please. — DETROIT.

-:-

Dear Detroit: In an emergency, such a setup would be okay. But since there was no emergency and money is no problem, they should have had separate rooms. The fact that they registered as Mr. and Mrs. made it a little too cute, in my opinion.

Confidentially

To Heart Full of Regret: You should have stayed with him until he "regained his strength." He said he was tired, not dead. Ask for another chance and I hope you get it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Blast Releases Chlorine Gas As Hundreds Flee

PERRY, Ohio (AP)—An explosion at Calhio Chemical Co. plant here Monday night released a cloud of chlorine gas that threatened nearby homes. Police had hundreds of families evacuate their dwellings until the gas had dispersed.

Two of four employes in the plant were admitted to Lake County Memorial Hospital East for treatment of burns and fume inhalation. Both John Hribar, 60, of Maidon and Edward Culpepper, 30, of Painesville were reported in fair condition.

The Lake County Sheriff's Office said "a runaway reaction took place in one of the vessels in the chemical plant, producing a sudden high pressure that dislodged a safety valve and ruptured an escape line."

A visible cloud of gas was moved slowly northward and out into the lake by 10-mile-an-hour winds.

The plant manufactures fertilizers. Most of the places evacuated were north and northwest of here.

Rehearsals For Moon Trip

Three-Man Crews Picked For First Apollo Flights

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Six astronauts, including two who never have ridden a rocket, today held key roles in two forthcoming space rehearsals for America's flight to the moon.

The space agency Monday named three-man crews for the first manned flights atop the Saturn 5 rocket, whose triumphant test journey Nov. 9 gave the moon program the impetus it needed.

Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt, 38, commander of the 1965 Gemini 5 flight, is in charge of the first manned Saturn 5 flight planned for late next year.

Traveling with him will be Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott, 35, veteran of the Gemini 8 flight in 1966 and civilian astronaut Russell L. Schweickart, 32, venturing into space for the first time.

Early in 1969 Air Force Col. Frank Borman, 39, will command the second manned trip aboard a Saturn 5, joined by Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins, 37, and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders, 34. Borman commanded Gemini 7 in 1965, Collins rode Gemini 10 in 1966. Anders is a space rookie.

Once in space the men are to act out vital steps in the moonflight scenario. McDivitt's team is to carry out first manned space testing of the Apollo command craft, its service section and the moonlanding lunar module.

Borman and his colleagues will fly with orders to carry out lunar mission steps the way they would go during an actual flight to the moon.

Their big job will be for the lunar ferry and the command ship to start hundreds of miles apart, find each other and link up in a run-through of the rendezvous required to bring home safely the first Americans who will walk the moon.

The crews named Monday were for the second and third manned flights of the Apollo lunar landing program. The first flight is to go next summer using a more powerful version of the Saturn 1 vehicle.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., 44, will command that flight, joined by civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham, 35, and Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele, 37. They are to check the spaceworthiness of the command craft and its ability to protect spacemen during its fiery skip back into earth's atmosphere.

The Schirra crew got its assignment after the three astronauts they understudied were killed in a fire in their Apollo ship atop a Saturn 1 at Cape Kennedy, Jan. 27.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I tear off a piece of plastic wrap and smooth it against the wall behind my stove and the kitchen drainboard. This sure keeps the grease from spattering on the wall whether you use an electric fry pan on your drainboard, or a skillet on the stove.

Greatest thing is that you can take a sponge dampened with warm water and wipe it off, or change it anytime it gets soiled.

It sure saves work for us housewives who have to repaint or repaper our kitchen grease marks.

T.T.

-:-

And, gals, don't forget if you have an electric stove with a bunch of buttons on it, you can ALWAYS tear off a piece of thin plastic wrap and lay it over those buttons. . .

This keeps not only the grease but the steam and carbon from getting into the mechanism. It's quite expensive when you have to have a button replaced. Or didn't you know?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I couldn't find any heavy red material inexpensive enough to use under my lace tablecloth, so I bought red outing flannel.

It not only adheres to the lace and looks lovely, but can be used later to line things with.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: In answer to a reader's question about preserving a corsage . . . there Is a way to preserve a corsage in its original colors and form.

Mix equal amounts of cornmeal and borax, adding three tablespoons of salt for each quart of mix.

Select a roomy cardboard or plastic container (NOT metal) and spread the mixture about an inch thick over the bottom.

Undue the bouquet and select only the freshest flowers. Throw away excess foliage.

Lay the flowers on the mix and then gently add more, a little at a time, packing it very carefully around, under and over the petals until the flowers are completely buried.

Store in a warm, dry, airy place for 10 days or more. Leave until the petals have stiffened.

Later, tip the container and let the mix run out slowly. Tap the flowers gently to remove mixture and brush lightly with a soft brush.

Reassemble into a bouquet, adding original ribbons, and store under glass or plastic.

LAURELEI MULLEN.

Many readers wrote that they had had good results with this way of preserving flowers.

For this method, one could use a sifter so that the mixture would fall gently on delicate flower petals such as orchids.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I stopped at our sewing center the other day and asked for a yard of "Heloise Net."

The clerk looked baffled and started to speak with another clerk. I then said I only wanted some nylon net.

She laughed and said that she had been away for six months and thought maybe that "Heloise Net" was something new!

HC.F.

DEAR HELOISE: I found a quick and easy way to make cornbread dressing.

I add all the ingredients for the dressing into my cornbread mix and then bake it all together.

After it is cooked, I crumble the mixture and add flour or five slices of bread, depending on the amount I'm making. Then I add the liquid and mix it all together.

I stuff the bird with this dressing and bake.

This method sure does save me time.

Making Second Copter Carrier

Soviet May Be Building Amphibious War Unit

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say the Soviet Union apparently is building a second helicopter carrier and suggest the Soviets may be bent on developing a significant amphibious warfare force.

The sources interpreted the development as a sign the Soviets may be belatedly taking a leaf out of the American book and building a force that could intervene with Marine-like troops in overseas crises.

The construction of the new vessel reportedly is in its early stages, but Pentagon experts said it appears to be a helicopter carrier like the first such Soviet ship whose existence was disclosed publicly only about a month ago.

The first helicopter carrier, about 600 feet long and less than 30,000 tons, is being outfitted near Odessa in the Black Sea, the sources said. The second carrier is being built in the same place.

The rise of Soviet interest in amphibious warfare has been a matter of concern for the United States and for its North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners.

Since the Arab-Israeli war last June, the Soviets have maintained a fleet of more than 45 warships and supporting vessels in the Mediterranean. Five of these ships are amphibious types.

Coupled with this is the evident attention the Soviets are giving to their "naval infantry," roughly a counterpart of the U.S. Marine Corps.

After an on-again, off-again history, the Soviet naval infantry apparently was revived a little more than three years ago. Estimates now place its strength at only about 3,000—roughly 1 per cent of the size of the Marine Corps.

U.S. authorities say the Soviet naval infantry is being developed as an elite force. Naval infantrymen wear a distinctive uniform, topped off by a black beret.

If the Soviets use their helicopter carriers in the same way as the United States, they would station them off potential trouble spots of political interest to the Soviet Union.

In event of a decision to establish a Soviet military presence, the Soviet navy could fly naval infantrymen from the carriers and land them in helicopters on foreign shores.

So far, Pentagon experts said, the Soviets have only a tiny capacity for any kind of cold war 'show of force" amphibious operation.

"It's a drop in the bucket now," one intelligence expert said, "but we really don't know to what extent they are going to expand their naval infantry and amphibious capability."

Community Tree Set Up At Lisbon

LISBON — The community Christmas tree is a handsome Norway spruce that came from a Chestnut.

John Chesnut of Applegate Rd., southeast of here, donated it to the Kiwanis Club, which has the function each year of obtaining a tree.

The spruce, from Chestnut's front yard, is dark green, heavily coned and 35 feet tall. Dean Rose, local contractor, brought it to the square Monday on a carryall and the Street Department crew erected it on the music court.

Decorations will be added in time for lighting for the Jaycees - sponsored Santa Claus parade Saturday at 1 p.m. on Lincoln Way.

Jaycees and their wives will pack 1,800 bags of kiddies' treats for Santa to distribute in front of the tree after the parade.

Santa is scheduled to arrive by parachute if the weather is good.

Autos Collide On Lisbon Hill

Two drivers escaped injury when their cars sideswiped on a curve on the Lisbon St. Hill Monday night at 8:28, police reported.

The mishap involved a 1962 two-door sedan driven by Napoleon T. Cardozo, 73, of 513 Virginia Ave. and a 1967 two-door sedan operated by Elsie May Dapollonia, 31, of 219 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Cardozo told police he was driving downgrade in the 1000 block and was unable to see the center line, causing him to sideswipe the Dapollonia car. The woman said the Cardozo car was "partly in my lane," striking her northbound auto.

Orland Rice of Waterford Park Race Track told police he was struck by a hit-skip car about 5:30 p. m. Monday as he walked on W. 6th St., injuring his left leg. He gave police a partial description of the auto and said it carried Pennsylvania license plates.

James E. Kraft of 233 Center St. reported Monday the rear bumper of his 1964 model car was damaged by a hit-skip car while parked on Michigan Ave. near Elizabeth St. Sunday between 5 and 10 p. m.

A 1968 sedan owned by the Hertz Rent-a-Car Agency and parked at Al's Atlantic Service Station on E. 3rd St. near Walnut St. was damaged on the left front door in another hit-skip mishap Monday, police were told. An employe of the service station who witnessed the crash turned over a license number to police.

Kefauver Widow Collapses, Dies In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nancy Kefauver, 56, widow of Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver and a State Department art adviser, collapsed at a formal Washington dinner and died in a hotel room Monday night.

She had been carried from the Mayflower Hotel's grand ballroom only a short time before President Johnson, a longtime friend of the Kefauvers, arrived to make a dinner speech. A police coroner said her death was due to "heart failure."

Johnson apparently was unaware Mrs. Kefauver had died in a seventh floor room as he paid tribute to the dinner's guest of honor, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

The dinner, attended by more than 500, was an annual award event of the Veterans of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). Mrs. Kefauver attended with a cousin of her late husband, Malcolm Fooshee, a New York attorney.

Fooshee said Mrs. Kefauver "didn't seem to be herself" at the dinner.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I tear off a piece of plastic wrap and smooth it against the wall behind my stove and the kitchen drainboard. This sure keeps the grease from spattering on the wall whether you use an electric fry pan on your drainboard, or a skillet on the stove.

Greatest thing is that you can take a sponge dampened with warm water and wipe it off, or change it anytime it gets soiled.

It sure saves work for us housewives who have to repaint or repaper our kitchen grease marks.

T.T.

And, gals, don't forget if you have an electric stove with a bunch of buttons on it, you can ALWAYS tear off a piece of thin plastic wrap and lay it over those buttons. . .

This keeps not only the grease but the steam and carbon from getting into the mechanism. It's quite expensive when you have to have a button replaced. Or didn't you know?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I couldn't find any heavy red material inexpensive enough to use under my lace tablecloth, so I bought red outing flannel.

It not only adheres to the lace and looks lovely, but can be used later to line things with.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: In answer to a reader's question about preserving a corsage . . . there Is a way to preserve a corsage in its original colors and form.

Mix equal amounts of cornmeal and borax, adding three tablespoons of salt for each quart of mix.

Select a roomy cardboard or plastic container (NOT metal) and spread the mixture about an inch thick over the bottom.

Undue the bouquet and select only the freshest flowers. Throw away excess foliage.

Lay the flowers on the mix and then gently add more, a little at a time, packing it very carefully around, under and over the petals until the flowers are completely buried.

Store in a warm, dry, airy place for 10 days or more. Leave until the petals have stiffened.

Later, tip the container and let the mix run out slowly. Tap the flowers gently to remove mixture and brush lightly with a soft brush.

Reassemble into a bouquet, adding original ribbons, and store under glass or plastic.

LAURELEI MULLEN.

Many readers wrote that they had had good results with this way of preserving flowers.

For this method, one could use a sifter so that the mixture would fall gently on delicate flower petals such as orchids.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I stopped at our sewing center the other day and asked for a yard of "Heloise Net."

The clerk looked baffled and started to speak with another clerk. I then said I only wanted some nylon net.

She laughed and said that she had been away for six months and thought maybe that "Heloise Net" was something new!

HC.F.

DEAR HELOISE: I found a quick and easy way to make cornbread dressing.

I add all the ingredients for the dressing into my cornbread mix and then bake it all together.

After it is cooked, I crumble the mixture and add flour or five slices of bread, depending on the amount I'm making. Then I add the liquid and mix it all together.

I stuff the bird with this dressing and bake.

New Offer Expected In Transit Walkout

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's bus strike now has lasted twice as long as the 1913 transit strike — and there is no assurance that a break is imminent.

Sources say that the Cincinnati Transit Co. may make a new offer to the Amalgamated Transit Union at today's bargaining session. Details of the possible offer were not disclosed, but it probably would result in a fare increase when the buses start running again.

Making Second Copter Carrier

Soviet May Be Building Amphibious War Unit

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say the Soviet Union apparently is building a second helicopter carrier and suggest the Soviets may be bent on developing a significant amphibious warfare force.

The sources interpreted the development as a sign the Soviets may be belatedly taking a leaf out of the American book and building a force that could intervene with Marine-like troops in overseas crises.

The construction of the new vessel reportedly is in its early stages, but Pentagon experts said it appears to be a helicopter carrier like the first such Soviet ship whose existence was disclosed publicly only about a month ago.

The first helicopter carrier, about 600 feet long and less than 30,000 tons, is being outfitted near Odessa in the Black Sea, the sources said. The second carrier is being built in the same place.

The rise of Soviet interest in amphibious warfare has been a matter of concern for the United States and for its North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners.

Since the Arab-Israeli war last June, the Soviets have maintained a fleet of more than 45 warships and supporting vessels in the Mediterranean. Five of these ships are amphibious types.

Coupled with this is the evident attention the Soviets are giving to their "naval infantry," roughly a counterpart of the U.S. Marine Corps.

After an on-again, off-again history, the Soviet naval infantry apparently was revived a little more than three years ago. Estimates now place its strength at only about 3,000—roughly 1 per cent of the size of the Marine Corps.

U.S. authorities say the Soviet naval infantry is being developed as an elite force. Naval infantrymen wear a distinctive uniform, topped off by a black beret.

If the Soviets use their helicopter carriers in the same way as the United States, they would station them off potential trouble spots of political interest to the Soviet Union.

In event of a decision to establish a Soviet military presence, the Soviet navy could fly naval infantrymen from the carriers and land them in helicopters on foreign shores.

So far, Pentagon experts said, the Soviets have only a tiny capacity for any kind of cold war "show of force" amphibious operation.

"It's a drop in the bucket now," one intelligence expert said, "but we really don't know to what extent they are going to expand their naval infantry and amphibious capability."

Community Tree Set Up At Lisbon

LISBON — The community Christmas tree is a handsome Norway spruce that came from a Chestnut.

John Chesnut of Applegate Rd., southeast of here, donated it to the Kiwanis Club, which has the function each year of obtaining a tree.

The spruce, from Chestnut's front yard, is dark green, heavily coned and 35 feet tall. Dean Rose, local contractor, brought it to the square Monday on a carryall and the Street Department crew erected it on the music court.

Decorations will be added in time for lighting for the Jaycees - sponsored Santa Claus parade Saturday at 1 p.m. on Lincoln Way.

Jaycees and their wives will pack 1,800 bags of kiddies' treats for Santa to distribute in front of the tree after the parade.

Santa is scheduled to arrive by parachute if the weather is good.

Autos Collide On Lisbon Hill

Two drivers escaped injury when their cars sideswiped on a curve on the Lisbon St. Hill Monday night at 8:28, police reported.

The mishap involved a 1962 two-door sedan driven by Napoleon T. Cardozo, 73, of 513 Virginia Ave. and a 1967 two-door sedan operated by Elsie May Dapollonia, 31, of 219 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Cardozo told police he was driving downgrade in the 1000 block and was unable to see the center line, causing him to sideswipe the Dapollonia car. The woman said the Cardozo car was "partly in my lane," striking her northbound auto.

Orland Rice of Waterford Park Race Track told police he was struck by a hit-skip car about 5:30 p. m. Monday as he walked on W. 6th St., injuring his left leg. He gave police a partial description of the auto and said it carried Pennsylvania license plates.

James E. Kraft of 233 Center St. reported Monday the rear bumper of his 1964 model car was damaged by a hit-skip car while parked on Michigan Ave. near Elizabeth St. Sunday between 5 and 10 p. m.

A 1968 sedan owned by the Hertz Rent-a-Car Agency and parked at Al's Atlantic Service Station on E. 3rd St. near Walnut St. was damaged on the left front door in another hit-skip mishap Monday, police were told. An employe of the service station who witnessed the crash turned over a license number to police.

Kefauver Widow Collapses, Dies In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nancy Kefauver, 56, widow of Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver and a State Department art adviser, collapsed at a formal Washington dinner and died in a hotel room Monday night.

She had been carried from the Mayflower Hotel's grand ballroom only a short time before President Johnson, a longtime friend of the Kefauvers, arrived to make a dinner speech. A police coroner said her death was due to "heart failure."

Johnson apparently was unaware Mrs. Kefauver had died in a seventh floor room as he paid tribute to the dinner's guest of honor, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

The dinner, attended by more than 500, was an annual award event of the Veterans of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). Mrs. Kefauver attended with a cousin of her late husband, Malcolm Fooshee, a New York attorney.

Fooshee said Mrs. Kefauver "didn't seem to be herself" at the dinner.

Maine Blvd. Project

Plan For Sewer Due More Study

Council gave second reading Monday night to the first legislation for installation of a new sanitary sewer on Maine Blvd., primarily to serve two new schools being erected there, but named a committee to investigate questions surrounding the project before taking final action on the resolution.

The resolution was given first reading at the Nov. 6 session, when several members asked if the present sanitary sewer on Bradshaw Ave. could handle the additional capacity if it is hooked in with the Maine Blvd. line. They contended that the Bradshaw line sometimes is loaded beyond its capacity at present, presumably because some surface water drains are connected to it illegally.

COUNCIL received a letter from Engineer George S. Bloomgren asserting that the Bradshaw line's occasional flooding may be a result of "infiltration of storm water." He suggested a conference with the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewer systems.

Councilman Robert W. Sample, president pro tem, appointed Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson, James Lowe and Norman Bucher as the committee to talk with the utilities board.

Bloomgren's letter said:

"At a recent meeting, the question was asked about the capacity of the existing sanitary sewer on Bradshaw Ave. and whether or not it would be able to absorb the additional load occasioned by the proposed extension to Maine Blvd. to the new school site.

"The sanitary sewer on Bradshaw Ave., functioning as such, has ample capacity to carry the present load and the additional sewage to be contributed by the new school buildings. The occasional flooding most apparent at Bradshaw Ave. and Avondale St. is caused by the infiltration of storm water. The logical approach to the storm water problem is to locate the spots where the storm water infiltrates and make sure the surface water is directed into the storm sewer.

"The Board of Public Utilities should be asked to make a thorough investigation of the problem, including the possibility of downspouts being connected to the sanitary sewer, and take action to remedy the situation."

WHEN THE legislation was presented for second reading, Mrs. Wilson moved for appointment of the committee to meet with the utilities board "and discuss the overall sewer problem." She and Bucher raised the questions about the sewer's capacity at the meeting two weeks ago.

Sample then named the three-member committee. The legislation was placed on second reading, 7-0. A motion to suspend the rules and enact it immediately was defeated 6-1. Councilman Harold Maylone cast the only favorable vote.

A WOMAN'S complaint on a parking ticket she received Saturday when she halted her car near her home was referred to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey for investigation.

Mrs. Jay C. Mason of W. 4th St. near Jackson St. said she pulled into a metered spot at her home and went inside with an armload of packages, not putting a coin in the meter. As she started outside, the telephone rang and she gave a coin to her son and asked him to place it in the meter, she said. But before he could get to the meter, "in less than two minutes," the car was tagged for overtime parking, she asserted.

Mrs. Mason also complained that on a prior date a blue car was parked at the same meter all day and was not ticketed. She said a "Meter Maid" walked by the car three times and did not ticket it. She gave Council a license number which she said she obtained from the auto.

"We're forever getting tickets," Mrs. Mason said. If the family car is parked outside the meter zone at night, the gasoline is stolen or some other theft is committed, she added.

"This is another case of parking meters in a residential district," Councilman Frank Duffy said. "They shouldn't be there." He said the director should "tear up" the ticket.

Councilman Floyd Murray said he has investigated the same complaint and found that the Mason family has no place to park its auto except at a metered spot.

CONTINUING an argument that began Nov. 6, Council voted last night to reject two claims filed by householders along the East End Run. Both complained their property was damaged in an overflow of the small stream after a heavy rain.

Wilbert J. Hardman of 904 Kent St. had filed a claim for $60 and Mathias DeBrito of Industry RD 1 filed a claim for $125 for damage to his property at 920 Kent St. The damage allegedly occurred on July 24.

Lowe, reporting for the claims committee, recommended rejection of the two claims. The same moiton was made two weeks ago, then held up to allow the committee to consult further with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper. At that time, Lowe said the solicitor recommended the committee disallow the claims because the run is on private property and the city is not responsible.

"We agreed to pay this once," Duffy said. "Lowe is the only member of the committee in favor of rejecting them. That's private property, but the run goes through there."

Referring to DeBrito, Duffy added: "He says he will barricade the run. A few years ago, he lost other property from a flood. If you're going to do things like this I want off the claims committee. I think these bills should be paid."

A similar argument came up when the Hardman claim was introduced. Sample said he was voting in favor of rejecting the claim on the advice of the solicitor. Duffy said the solicitor remarked that the committee could disregard his advice and pay the claim.

The motion to reject the claims was passed, 4-3. Duffy, Councilmen Floyd Murray and Bucher voted "no." Supporting the motion were Sample, Lowe, Harold Maylone and Mrs. Wilson.

MRS. WILSON announced a scheduled public hearing on rezoning a short stretch of Pennsylvania Ave. near Virginia Ave. has been reset for Jan. 15 at 7 p.m.

The action, already cleared by the City Planning Commission, would rezone a short stretch from "residential" to "commercial" use. Murray said he is in favor of rezoning the whole stretch of Pennsylvania Ave. from Locust St. to Boyce St. He said "nine or 10 businesses are established there already."

Duffy said he had received a call from officials of the Humane Society threatening to "sue the city" if the dog pound is not moved out of its temporary location in the old incinerator department building at the foot of Washington St. He said he replied the administration was considering a new site near the old carbarn property in East End.

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample. President Ernest Lowe was excused.

Canton Driver Unhurt When Auto Overturns

A 73-year-old Canton man, wearing a seat belt, escaped injury Monday when his auto rolled over on Route 30 near Hanoverton, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Harry Gloss was headed west in a 1966 sedan when he lost control rounding a curve due to mud on the highway about four miles west of Lisbon.

The car went off the north side of the road, then swerved back onto the roadway and overturned, landing on its top.

Shoppers Get Meter Break At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night approved a recommendation from the Chamber of Commerce that operation of the city parking meters be suspended from Dec. 2 to Dec. 30 to provide convenient parking for Christmas shoppers.

This has been a custom here for years.

Council approved $2,500 for a survey for the municipal power plant, the first study of the facility since major improvements six years ago.

Referred to the finance committee was a proposed increase in salaries for Councilmen and other elected officials, to become effective the next term.

Councilmen received a raise from $100 a year to $400 a year in 1960. The mayor's salary has been $2,500 since 1954.

A discussion was held on complaints about the water system concerning taste and odor. Mayor Robert Harding and Safety-Service Director George McGuckin said a new well is needed.

McGuckin said four pounds of chlorine are being added daily to the city supply, an increase over past years. He said there is need for phosphate treatment at one of the four wells.

Mayor Of Amherst Suspends Police Chief

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Barvin R. Davis of nearby Amherst suspended Police Chief Arthur H. Koppenhafer for four days, effective Monday, because the chief gave a list of recent court cases and decisions to a Lorain reporter.

Mayor Davis said that cases heard in his court are a matter of public record and available to any reporter who wants to get the information for himself, but a police official who compiles such a list is "going beyond the bounds of legal requirements."

He added that if Koppenhafer had enough time to compile such a list, "the police department must be overstaffed."

Prices Fall Sharply, Recover

Stock Market 'Feverish' After British, U.S. Steps

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock, bond and commodity markets reacted feverishly to devaluation of the British pound and boosts in British and U.S. interest rates.

Many apprehensive traders sold Monday in an effort to protect their investments.

Prices fell sharply in early trading on the New York Stock Exchange but recovered most of their losses by the close.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 14.96 points in the first half hour of trading but closed off 4.33 at 857.58.

In New York, the price of U.S. government bonds declined.

American grain prices dropped and meat prices dipped. Commodity prices, including cocoa, sugar and copper, were mixed.

Apprehension had built up among investors after the British pound was devalued to $2.40 from $2.80, the British lending rate was raised to 8 per cent from 6.5 per cent and the U.S. discount was increased to 4.5 per cent from 4 per cent during the weekend.

The devaluation was intended to bolster the sagging British economy by making exports more attractive by lowering their price by about 14.3 per cent. At the same time, the devaluation increased the price the English must pay for imports by about the same amount.

The British government, plagued by years of importing more than it exports, hoped the devaluation would change its balance of trade.

The boost in the British lending rate was designed to attract foreign investment in Britain by paying a higher interest rate and also to slow economic activity.

The U.S. Federal Reserve Board hiked its official lending rate for the same reason—to tighten the money supply.

A result of the devaluation may be that Americans will pay less for scotch, sweaters, china and other imports from Britain. But importers say this may not result until after Christmas.

Some financial sources expressed the opinion that the adverse reaction of the financial developments on the stock market may be brief.

Rhodes, Others Cited In Suit By Central Students

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— Suit was filed in federal court here Monday against Gov. James A. Rhodes, local officials and officers of two universities in connection with the recent rioting at Central State University.

The petition, filed in U. S. District Court by Sidney Davis, Greene County attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was on behalf of nine students and parents of students at Central State and adjacent Wilberforce University.

It alleges the defendants used "arbitrary and capricious means to incite students to the point of revolt." The action referred to the riot a week ago which resulted in more than 90 arrests, the calling of National Guard units to help put down the disturbance, and the subsequence closing of Central State.

Defendants named in the suit were Rhodes, Dr. Harry E. Groves, Central State President; John H. Bustamonte, Cleveland, chairman of the board of trustees for Central State; Dr. Rembert Stokes, president of Wilberforce University; Green County Prosecutor Marshall Peterson; Police Chief Harold Miller of Xenia, and others.

Council enacted an ordinance Monday night officially adopting a new hard-cover volume containing an up-to-date codification of all municipal ordinances of a general and permanent nature.

The new City Code replaces the previous edition, which was published in 1951. Several supplements were published to keep the former volume current.

The new edition was prepared and published by a Cleveland concern. It will become "the law of the city" as soon as Council's ordinance is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

—:—

COUNCIL received a letter from Engineer George S. Bloomgren asserting that the Bradshaw line's occasional flooding may be a result of "infiltration of storm water." He suggested a conference with the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewer systems.

Councilman Robert W. Sample, president pro tem, appointed Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson, James Lowe and Norman Bucher as the committee to talk with the utilities board.

Bloomgren's letter said:

"At a recent meeting, the question was asked about the capacity of the existing sanitary sewer on Bradshaw Ave. and whether or not it would be able to absorb the additional load occasioned by the proposed extension to Maine Blvd. to the new school site.

"The sanitary sewer on Bradshaw Ave., functioning as such, has ample capacity to carry the present load and the additional sewage to be contributed by the new school buildings. The occasional flooding most apparent at Bradshaw Ave. and Avondale St. is caused by the infiltration of storm water. The logical approach to the storm water problem is to locate the spots where the storm water infiltrates and make sure the surface water is directed into the storm sewer.

"The Board of Public Utilities should be asked to make a thorough investigation of the problem, including the possibility of downspouts being connected to the sanitary sewer, and take action to remedy the situation."

WHEN THE legislation was presented for second reading, Mrs. Wilson moved for appointment of the committee to meet with the utilities board "and discuss the overall sewer problem." She and Bucher raised the questions about the sewer's capacity at the meeting two weeks ago.

Sample then named the three-member committee. The legislation was placed on second reading, 7-0. A motion to suspend the rules and enact it immediately was defeated 6-1. Councilman Harold Maylone cast the only favorable vote.

A WOMAN'S complaint on a parking ticket she received Saturday when she halted her car near her home was referred to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey for investigation.

Mrs. Jay C. Mason of W. 4th St. near Jackson St. said she pulled into a metered spot at her home and went inside with an armload of packages, not putting a coin in the meter. As she started outside, the telephone rang and she gave a coin to her son and asked him to place it in the meter, she said. But before he could get to the meter, "in less than two minutes," the car was tagged for overtime parking, she asserted.

Mrs. Mason also complained that on a prior date a blue car was parked at the same meter all day and was not ticketed. She said a "Meter Maid" walked by the car three times and did not ticket it. She gave Council a license number which she said she obtained from the auto.

"We're forever getting tickets," Mrs. Mason said. If the family car is parked outside the meter zone at night, the gasoline is stolen or some other theft is committed, she added.

"This is another case of parking meters in a residential district," Councilman Frank Duffy said. "They shouldn't be there." He said the director should "tear up" the ticket.

Councilman Floyd Murray said he has investigated the same complaint and found that the Mason family has no place to park its auto except at a metered spot.

CONTINUING an argument that began Nov. 6, Council voted last night to reject two claims filed by householders along the East End Run. Both complained their property was damaged in an overflow of the small stream after a heavy rain.

Wilbert J. Hardman of 904 Kent St. had filed a claim for $60 and Mathias DeBrito of Industry RD 1 filed a claim for $125 for damage to his property at 920 Kent St. The damage allegedly occurred on July 24.

Lowe, reporting for the claims committee, recommended rejection of the two claims. The same motion was made two weeks ago, then held up to allow the committee to consult further with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper. At that time, Lowe said the solicitor recommended the committee disallow the claims because the run is on private property and the city is not responsible.

"We agreed to pay this once," Duffy said. "Lowe is the only member of the committee in favor of rejecting them. That's private property, but the run goes through there."

Referring to DeBrito, Duffy added: "He says he will barricade the run. A few years ago, he lost other property from a flood. If you're going to do things like this I want off the claims committee. I think these bills should be paid."

A similar argument came up when the Hardman claim was introduced. Sample said he was voting in favor of rejecting the claim on the advice of the solicitor. Duffy said the solicitor remarked that the committee could disregard his advice and pay the claim.

The motion to reject the claims was passed, 4-3. Duffy, Councilmen Floyd Murray and Bucher voted "no." Supporting the motion were Sample, Lowe, Harold Maylone and Mrs. Wilson.

MRS. WILSON announced a scheduled public hearing on rezoning a short stretch of Pennsylvania Ave. near Virginia Ave. has been reset for Jan. 15 at 7 p.m.

The action, already cleared by the City Planning Commission, would rezone a short stretch from "residential" to "commercial" use. Murray said he is in favor of rezoning the whole stretch of Pennsylvania Ave. from Locust St. to Boyce St. He said "nine or 10 businesses are established there already."

Duffy said he had received a call from officials of the Humane Society threatening to "sue the city" if the dog pound is not moved out of its temporary location in the old incinerator department building at the foot of Washington St. He said he replied the administration was considering a new site near the old carbarn property in East End.

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample. President Ernest Lowe was excused.

Canton Driver Unhurt When Auto Overturns

A 73-year-old Canton man, wearing a seat belt, escaped injury Monday when his auto rolled over on Route 30 near Hanoverton, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Harry Gloss was headed west in a 1966 sedan when he lost control rounding a curve due to mud on the highway about four miles west of Lisbon.

The car went off the north side of the road, then swerved back onto the roadway and overturned, landing on its top.

Shoppers Get Meter Break At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night approved a recommendation from the Chamber of Commerce that operation of the city parking meters be suspended from Dec. 2 to Dec. 30 to provide convenient parking for Christmas shoppers.

This has been a custom here for years.

Council approved $2,500 for a survey for the municipal power plant, the first study of the facility since major improvements six years ago.

Referred to the finance committee was a proposed increase in salaries for Councilmen and other elected officials, to become effective the next term.

Councilmen received a raise from $100 a year to $400 a year in 1960. The mayor's salary has been $2,500 since 1954.

A discussion was held on complaints about the water system concerning taste and odor. Mayor Robert Harding and Safety-Service Director George McGuckin said a new well is needed.

McGuckin said four pounds of chlorine are being added daily to the city supply, an increase over past years. He said there is need for phosphate treatment at one of the four wells.

Mayor Of Amherst Suspends Police Chief

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Barvin R. Davis of nearby Amherst suspended Police Chief Arthur H. Koppenhafer for four days, effective Monday, because the chief gave a list of recent court cases and decisions to a Lorain reporter.

Mayor Davis said that cases heard in his court are a matter of public record and available to any reporter who wants to get the information for himself, but a police official who compiles such a list is "going beyond the bounds of legal requirements."

He added that if Koppenhafer had enough time to compile such a list, "the police department must be overstaffed."

Prices Fall Sharply, Recover

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock, bond and commodity markets reacted feverishly to devaluation of the British pound and boosts in British and U.S. interest rates.

Many apprehensive traders sold Monday in an effort to protect their investments.

Prices fell sharply in early trading on the New York Stock Exchange but recovered most of their losses by the close.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 14.96 points in the first half hour of trading but closed off 4.33 at 857.58.

In New York, the price of U.S. government bonds declined.

American grain prices dropped and meat prices dipped. Commodity prices, including cocoa, sugar and copper, were mixed.

Apprehension had built up among investors after the British pound was devalued to $2.40 from $2.80, the British lending rate was raised to 8 per cent from 6.5 per cent and the U.S. discount was increased to 4.5 per cent from 4 per cent during the weekend.

The devaluation was intended to bolster the sagging British economy by making exports more attractive by lowering their price by about 14.3 per cent. At the same time, the devaluation increased the price the English must pay for imports by about the same amount.

The British government, plagued by years of importing more than it exports, hoped the devaluation would change its balance of trade.

The boost in the British lending rate was designed to attract foreign investment in Britain by paying a higher interest rate and also to slow economic activity.

The U.S. Federal Reserve Board hiked its official lending rate for the same reason—to tighten the money supply.

A result of the devaluation may be that Americans will pay less for scotch, sweaters, china and other imports from Britain. But importers say this may not result until after Christmas.

Some financial sources expressed the opinion that the adverse reaction of the financial developments on the stock market may be brief.

Rhodes, Others Cited In Suit By Central Students

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— Suit was filed in federal court here Monday against Gov. James A. Rhodes, local officials and officers of two universities in connection with the recent rioting at Central State University.

The petition, filed in U. S. District Court by Sidney Davis, Greene County attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was on behalf of nine students and parents of students at Central State and adjacent Wilberforce University.

It alleges the defendants used "arbitrary and capricious means to incite students to the point of revolt." The action referred to the riot a week ago which resulted in more than 90 arrests, the calling of National Guard units to help put down the disturbance, and the subsequence closing of Central State.

Defendants named in the suit were Rhodes, Dr. Harry E. Groves, Central State President; John H. Bustamonte, Cleveland, chairman of the board of trustees for Central State; Dr. Rembert Stokes, president of Wilberforce University; Green County Prosecutor Marshall Peterson; Police Chief Harold Miller of Xenia, and others.

City's New Code Council Accepts

Council enacted an ordinance Monday night officially adopting a new hard-cover volume containing an up-to-date codification of all municipal ordinances of a general and permanent nature.

The new City Code replaces the previous edition, which was published in 1951. Several supplements were published to keep the former volume current.

The new edition was prepared and published by a Cleveland concern. It will become "the law of the city" as soon as Council's ordinance is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

Few people in this area have heard of Haverford and Swarthmore colleges, especially in terms of football.

They started playing each other in 1879, and though there have been some interruptions in the series, it is now as bitter a rivalry as any in the sport. The schools are much better known as academic powerhouses. An impartial survey published in 1957 placed Haverford as the best small men's college in the country and Swarthmore as the number two coed institution nationally.

Football at Haverford has bordered on the ridiculous since 1958. In 1956 the Fords lost only one game, two the next year and three the season after that. But 2-5 has been the best record in the last nine years and Swarthmore had been beaten only once in that span, a stunning 22-8 upset on a Wednesday afternoon after President Kennedy had been assassinated. This win revenged a 60-6 pasting of the year before.

APPARENTLY subscribing to the theory of "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em," this year Haverford hired a Swarthmore graduate, Dana Swan, to coach football. Long-time coach Roy Randall had retired to the athletic director's job after the 1962 season, during which the Fords broke a 21-game winless streak with a 6-0 win over Ursinus and the campus barely survived the celebration that followed. Bill Docherty, long-time assistant to Randall, achieved the Swarthmore win and a 2-5 season the next year, but after four years and five wins he too gave up the job.

If a fresh attitude was brought in by the younger Swan, it was not apparent in the scores of the first five games of 1967. The Fords were outscored 52.8-6.8 per game and steadily dropped to the bottom of the Dunkel ratings, joining such standout teams as Cal Tech, Curry and Gallaudet. Even during the darkest days of 1959-62, Haverford was no worse than sixth-worse in the national rankings.

But suddenly something happened. It was unbelievable, but right there in black-and-white was the score: Haverford 20, Ursinus 7. Even more startling, the Dunkel ratings made Haverford a one-point favorite over Swarthmore, which had lost three in a row after a 3-1 start. Still, even the most optimistic Ford fans were cautious about predicting a victory.

For fans used to the hoop-la and color surrounding a big-time high school game, the scene at Haverford's ancient Walton Field Saturday would have been almost unrecognizable. There were no bands to march, no cheerleaders to urge on the fans, no bevy of scouts, assistant coaches and statisticians to crowd the press box (which was a good thing, as the dilapidated press box seats eight and the Swarthmore radio station took up half of these seats).

INSTEAD, HOWEVER, there were hippies. Both schools have long been known as havens for far-out intellectuals, (more people go out for peace marches than for football) and a small segment of the stands was packed with a group sporting beards, beads and B.O. "Are those ours?" a disdainful alumnus asked Randall, who reluctantly answered in the affirmative. At least the hippies swelled the crowd, which was estimated at about 2,100.

The game itself was quite stunning, especially to Haverford fans who were used to seeing losing efforts week after week. Sam Porrecca, who had never played on a winning team in high school or college, broke up the middle on a trap on the third play of the game and went 63 yards for a TD to put Haverford ahead 6-0. The Haverford fans didn't mind the rain that fell the rest of the quarter, but neither team could move in the mud.

Then in the second period, Porrecca did it again. On a draw play, he went up the middle for 59 yards and another score and it was 14-0. Then Porrecca, a two-way player, intercepted a pass and returned it 32 yards to the Swarthmore seven, from where the Fords scored again to make it 20-0 and send their rooters into delirium.

They almost didn't care when Swarthmore came back with a long pass play to make it 20-7, for Haverford quickly retaliated to score again with time running out in the half to make it 28-7.

LATECOMERS couldn't believe the score, and Swarthmore set out to prove that the first half had been a mistake. The Garnet drove for a TD that made it 28-14 midway in the third period and a nervous Haverford fan said that the traditional "Roll, Fords, Roll" chant should be changed to "Roll, Clock, Roll." But he had reckoned without the determination of Porrecca, who had billed the game as "the grudge match of the century." Twice he picked off passes to halt Garnet drives and he was helped by Pete Loesche, a senior who had lost the quarterbacking job when sophomore Jan Sachs came off the injured list in midseason. Loesche intercepted a pass and stole the ball from the Swarthmore quarterback, some one else intercepted a pass and the game ended without further scoring. Porrecca, only 5-8, 155, gained 194 yards, better than Leroy Keyes or O. J. Simpson on this day.

One of the hippies shook Swan's hand after the game and said "Congratulations, coach, from all of the bearded longhair students." "I love you all," replied Swan, who undoubtedly felt that way at the time.

Randall was reminded that this was the first time since 1958 that the Fords had put together back-to-back wins. "Two games isn't much of a winning streak to be proud of," he noted, "but maybe it's a beginning." As far as being rated in Dunkel's "Bottom 30" is concerned, Haverford rooters hope that it's the beginning of the end.

PSU In Gator; 'Bama In Cotton

By RON RAPOPORT

"It is mighty nice," said Tennessee Coach Doug Dickey, "to be wanted at a time like this."

The top postseason college football bowl games began taking shape Monday, the first day bids could be extended under NCAA rules.

Dickey's once-beaten Volunteers, rated second in the country, will meet Oklahoma, No. 5, in the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., the night of January 1.

"We're looking forward to the game," said Sooner Coach Chuck Fairbanks. "It's the one my boys wanted. But we've still got two tough games left."

Oklahoma can clinch the Big Eight title by beating Nebraska Thanksgiving Day and then Oklahoma State. Tennessee can wrap up the Southeastern Conference title with victories over Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Alabama accepted a bid to meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 in Dallas. Bear Bryant's ninth-rated Crimson Tide is 7-1-1. If Texas A&M wins its traditional contest with Texas Thursday, the Aggies would be the host club.

Texas, Texas Tech and Texas Christian also still have a chance to go to the bowl. It will be the third appearance in the Dallas game for Alabama, which beat A&M 29-21 in 1942 and lost to Rice 28-6 in 1954.

Wyoming, the last of the major unbeaten college teams, will meet Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, La. The Cowboys, 10-0, are rated seventh in the latest poll. LSU is 5-3-1.

The news of the bid was warmly received in Laramie, Wyo., where students, players, the university president and even the governor showed their excitement. Some 10,000 residents of the state are expected to make the trip.

Southern California, of course, will be the host team in the Rose Bowl. The Trojans assured themselves of the Pacific 8 title with its 21-20 victory over UCLA. Indiana and Minnesota still are in contention for the Big Ten spot.

Indiana can go to the bowl if it beats Purdue or if it ties Purdue and Minnesota loses to winless Wisconsin. If both lost Indiana goes. The Hoosiers have never been to the Rose Bowl.

Colorado accepted a Bluebonnet Bowl bid for Houston on Dec. 23. The runner-up in the Southwest Conference could be the opposing team as could Georgia, which has also been sounded out by the Liberty Bowl, to be played in Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 16.

Penn State, 7-2, accepted a bid to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 30. Chances are the opposition will be provided by the winner of this Saturday's Florida-Florida State game.

Miami is thought to be a Liberty Bowl possibility if it beats Notre Dame this week. Missouri was considered for the game, but the team decided Monday against accepting any bowl bid.

Mississippi, 4-3-1, will go to the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex., on Dec. 30. The selection committee was reportedly considering six teams—Syracuse, Nebraska, Florida, Florida State, Arizona State, and the University of Texas at El Paso—as possible opponents.

Six Beavers Honored As Buckeye All-Stars

Beaver Local placed six players on the Buckeye Border conference all-star football team, picked by the coaches last week.

Champion Toronto had seven players, Jefferson Union five, and Southern Local and Springfield Local two each.

On offense, the Beavers placed their top-flight passing combination, quarterback Dennis Klembara and end Rex Campbell. Klembara is 6-0, 175 and Campbell 6-5, 175. Both are seniors.

On defense, the Beavers were represented with two linemen and two backs. Sam Hall, 175, was selected as a defensive end and Dave Humphrey, 195, as a defensive tackle. Jim Burcham, 195, made it at linebacker and Dave Doak, 175, at safety. Doak is a junior, the rest seniors.

Southern's representatives were Frank Francis, only a sophomore, at offensive end, and Rich Rose, a junior, at halfback. Francis weighs 200, Rose 170.

Toronto had three players on offense, all senior linemen. Dan Mosti, 170, and Chuck Walker, 190, were named as guards and Dan Swickart, 235, as a tackle. Defensively the Red Knights were represented by tackle Dave Miller, 265, end Mark Pillar, 170, and deep backs Jim Stone, 160 and Bill Fisher, 175. All are seniors.

Jefferson Union had offensive tackle Bob Brown, 205, center Dave Nelson, 210, halfback Robert (Rabbit) Harris, 155, middle guard Mark Evans, 190, and linebacker Don Pytash, 155. Brown and Pytash are juniors, the rest seniors.

Springfield Local placed fullback Ken Gordon, 165, and linebacker Rick Sponhaltz, 185. Both are seniors.

Bill Cole and Dan Myers made honorable mention for Beaver Local and Dennis McElroy and Jim Ewing honorable mention for Southern.

Ex-Marine Phil Odle One Of Top Receivers

PROVO, Utah (AP) — A rugged ex-Marine who has trouble sleeping after games may become college football's second leading pass receiver of all time Saturday.

He is Phil Odle, the swift split end of Brigham Young University, who needs six receptions against San Jose State to take the No. 2 spot from Hugh Campbell, former Washington State star.

Odle, a 5-foot-11, 185-pounder with fine moves and sure hands, has caught 171 passes for 2,437 yards and 22 touchdowns since he and three other Marine buddies were recruited by the Mormon school.

With six receptions, 17 yards and one touchdown in his final game, Odle would finish his career second in receptions, tied for second in touchdown catches, and third in reception yardage.

Howard Twilley, former Tulsa end, holds a wide lead as the all-time champion in each category.

Older than most college players, the 24-year-old Odle nonetheless plays with the desire of a sophomore trying to break into the starting line-up.

He has played about half the season with two broken ribs, suffered in BYU's 31-13 victory over eight-ranked Oregon State.

"I have to wear a plate around my ribs," Odle says. "It hurts when I get hit, but it's worth it. I love to play."

John Dudo Debuts As Coach

Golden Beavers Have Letterman Core

A football injury will have a great effect on the basketball season at Western Beaver High School.

Mike Lacey, who led the Golden Beavers in rebounding and scoring last season, suffered a knee injury early in the football season and is still on crutches He will be unable to practice for at least another four weeks and may miss the entire year.

First year coach John Dudo has four other lettermen, however, and he looks to improve last year's WPIAL Section 17 mark of 2-8. Jim Wilson, a 6-1 senior, John Petchel, a 5-11 junior, and Darryl Dye, a 5-5 senior, will start, while Sam Lebertore, a 6-3 senior, is being pressed by 6-1 sophomore Phil Lacey. Chuck Kelker, a 6-0 junior, is expected to be the other starter.

Others expected to help are juniors Ron Misorski, 5-9, and Wayne Meredith, 5-8, and sophomore Barry Dawson, 5-9. Key players lost from last year were Clarence Andrews and Bill Hapich.

Dudo, a 1964 graduate of Clarion, coached a year at Newton Falls, Ohio, and has been the JV coach at Western Beaver the last two seasons. He says the Golden Beavers will try everything on offense and defense. He will be assisted by Dave Brown.

Dudo picks Center Twp. as the team to beat in Section 17.

In AP College Poll

Southern Cal Regains 1st, Tennessee Remains 2nd

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tennessee gets a last chance to dislodge Southern California from first place in The Associated Press' major-college football poll Saturday and an overwhelming victory by the Volunteers probably couldn't come at a more opportune time.

A decisive triumph by the Volunteers over a relatively weak Kentucky Wildcat team could play a large part in the championship.

Few people in this area have heard of Haverford and Swarthmore colleges, especially in terms of football.

They started playing each other in 1879, and though there have been some interruptions in the series, it is now as bitter a rivalry as any in the sport. The schools are much better known as academic powerhouses. An impartial survey published in 1957 placed Haverford as the best small men's college in the country and Swarthmore as the number two coed institution nationally.

Football at Haverford has bordered on the ridiculous since 1958. In 1956 the Fords lost only one game, two the next year and three the season after that. But 2-5 has been the best record in the last nine years and Swarthmore had been beaten only once in that span, a stunning 22-8 upset on a Wednesday afternoon after President Kennedy had been assassinated. This win revenged a 60-6 pasting of the year before.

APPARENTLY subscribing to the theory of "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em," this year Haverford hired a Swarthmore graduate, Dana Swan, to coach football. Long-time coach Roy Randall had retired to the athletic director's job after the 1962 season, during which the Fords broke a 21-game winless streak with a 6-0 win over Ursinus and the campus barely survived the celebration that followed. Bill Docherty, long-time assistant to Randall, achieved the Swarthmore win and a 2-5 season the next year, but after four years and five wins he too gave up the job.

If a fresh attitude was brought in by the younger Swan, it was not apparent in the scores of the first five games of 1967. The Fords were outscored 52.8-6.8 per game and steadily dropped to the bottom of the Dunkel ratings, joining such standout teams as Cal Tech, Curry and Gallaudet. Even during the darkest days of 1959-62, Haverford was no worse than sixth-worse in the national rankings.

But suddenly something happened. It was unbelievable, but right there in black-and-white was the score: Haverford 20, Ursinus 7. Even more startling, the Dunkel ratings made Haverford a one-point favorite over Swarthmore, which had lost three in a row after a 3-1 start. Still, even the most optimistic Ford fans were cautious about predicting a victory.

For fans used to the hoop-la and color surrounding a big-time high school game, the scene at Haverford's ancient Walton Field Saturday would have been almost unrecognizable. There were no bands to march, no cheerleaders to urge on the fans, no bevy of scouts, assistant coaches and statisticians to crowd the press box (which was a good thing, as the dilapidated press box seats eight and the Swarthmore radio station took up half of these seats).

INSTEAD, HOWEVER, there were hippies. Both schools have long been known as havens for far-out intellectuals, (more people go out for peace marches than for football) and a small segment of the stands was packed with a group sporting beards, beads and B.O. "Are those ours?" a disdainful alumnus asked Randall, who reluctantly answered in the affirmative. At least the hippies swelled the crowd, which was estimated at about 2,100.

The game itself was quite stunning, especially to Haverford fans who were used to seeing losing efforts week after week. Sam Porrecca, who had never played on a winning team in high school or college, broke up the middle on a trap on the third play of the game and went 63 yards for a TD to put Haverford ahead 6-0. The Haverford fans didn't mind the rain that fell the rest of the quarter, but neither team could move in the mud.

Then in the second period, Porrecca did it again. On a draw play, he went up the middle for 59 yards and another score and it was 14-0. Then Porrecca, a two-way player, intercepted a pass and returned it 32 yards to the Swarthmore seven, from where the Fords scored again to make it 20-0 and send their rooters into delirium.

They almost didn't care when Swarthmore came back with a long pass play to make it 20-7, for Haverford quickly retaliated to score again with time running out in the half to make it 28-7.

LATECOMERS couldn't believe the score, and Swarthmore set out to prove that the first half had been a mistake. The Garnet drove for a TD that made it 28-14 midway in the third period and a nervous Haverford fan said that the traditional "Roll, Fords, Roll" chant should be changed to "Roll, Clock, Roll." But he had reckoned without the determination of Porrecca, who had billed the game as "the grudge match of the century." Twice he picked off passes to halt Garnet drives and he was helped by Pete Loesche, a senior who had lost the quarterbacking job when sophomore Jan Sachs came off the injured list in midseason. Loesche intercepted a pass and stole the ball from the Swarthmore quarterback, some one else intercepted a pass and the game ended without further scoring. Porrecca, only 5-8, 155, gained 194 yards, better than Leroy Keyes or O. J. Simpson on this day.

One of the hippies shook Swan's hand after the game and said "Congratulations, coach, from all of the bearded longhair students." "I love you all," replied Swan, who undoubtedly felt that way at the time.

Randall was reminded that this was the first time since 1958 that the Fords had put together back-to-back wins. "Two games isn't much of a winning streak to be proud of," he noted, "but maybe it's a beginning." As far as being rated in Dunkel's "Bottom 30" is concerned, Haverford rooters hope that it's the beginning of the end.

PSU In Gator; 'Bama In Cotton

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"It is mighty nice," said Tennessee Coach Doug Dickey, "to be wanted at a time like this."

The top postseason college football bowl games began taking shape Monday, the first day bids could be extended under NCAA rules.

Dickey's once-beaten Volunteers, rated second in the country, will meet Oklahoma, No. 5, in the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., the night of January 1.

"We're looking forward to the game," said Sooner Coach Chuck Fairbanks. "It's the one my boys wanted. But we've still got two tough games left."

Oklahoma can clinch the Big Eight title by beating Nebraska Thanksgiving Day and then Oklahoma State. Tennessee can wrap up the Southeastern Conference title with victories over Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Alabama accepted a bid to meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 in Dallas. Bear Bryant's ninth-rated Crimson Tide is 7-1-1. If Texas A&M wins its traditional contest with Texas Thursday, the Aggies would be the host club.

Texas, Texas Tech and Texas Christian also still have a chance to go to the bowl. It will be the third appearance in the Dallas game for Alabama, which beat A&M 29-21 in 1942 and lost to Rice 28-6 in 1954.

Wyoming, the last of the major unbeaten college teams, will meet Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, La. The Cowboys, 10-0, are rated seventh in the latest poll. LSU is 5-3-1.

The news of the bid was warmly received in Laramie, Wyo., where students, players, the university president and even the governor showed their excitement. Some 10,000 residents of the state are expected to make the trip.

Southern California, of course, will be the host team in the Rose Bowl. The Trojans assured themselves of the Pacific 8 title with its 21-20 victory over UCLA. Indiana and Minnesota still are in contention for the Big Ten spot.

Indiana can go to the bowl if it beats Purdue or if it ties Purdue and Minnesota loses to winless Wisconsin. If both lost Indiana goes. The Hoosiers have never been to the Rose Bowl.

Colorado accepted a Bluebonnet Bowl bid for Houston on Dec. 23. The runner-up in the Southwest Conference could be the opposing team as could Georgia, which has also been sounded out by the Liberty Bowl, to be played in Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 16.

Penn State, 7-2, accepted a bid to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 30. Chances are the opposition will be provided by the winner of this Saturday's Florida-Florida State game.

Miami is thought to be a Liberty Bowl possibility if it beats Notre Dame this week. Missouri was considered for the game, but the team decided Monday against accepting any bowl bid.

Mississippi, 4-3-1, will go to the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex., on Dec. 30. The selection committee was reportedly considering six teams—Syracuse, Nebraska, Florida, Florida State, Arizona State, and the University of Texas at El Paso—as possible opponents.

John Dudo Debuts As Coach

Golden Beavers Have Letterman Core

A football injury will have a great effect on the basketball season at Western Beaver High School.

Mike Lacey, who led the Golden Beavers in rebounding and scoring last season, suffered a knee injury early in the football season and is still on crutches He will be unable to practice for at least another four weeks and may miss the entire year.

First year coach John Dudo has four other lettermen, however, and he looks to improve last year's WPIAL Section 17 mark of 2-8. Jim Wilson, a 6-1 senior, John Petchel, a 5-11 junior, and Darryl Dye, a 5-5 senior, will start, while Sam Lebertore, a 6-3 senior, is being pressed by 6-1 sophomore Phil Lacey. Chuck Kelker, a 6-0 junior, is expected to be the other starter.

Others expected to help are juniors Ron Misorski, 5-9, and Wayne Meredith, 5-8, and sophomore Barry Dawson, 5-9. Key players lost from last year were Clarence Andrews and Bill Hapich.

Dudo, a 1964 graduate of Clarion, coached a year at Newton Falls, Ohio, and has been the JV coach at Western Beaver the last two seasons. He says the Golden Beavers will try everything on offense and defense. He will be assisted by Dave Brown.

Dudo picks Center Twp. as the team to beat in Section 17.

Southern Cal Regains 1st, Tennessee Remains 2nd

By BEN OLAN

Tennessee gets a last chance to dislodge Southern California from first place in The Associated Press' major-college football poll Saturday and an overwhelming victory by the Volunteers probably couldn't come at a more opportune time.

A decisive triumph by the Volunteers over a relatively weak Kentucky Wildcat team could play a large part in the championship.

Southern Cal completed its regular Campaign by defeating UCLA 21-20 last Saturday. Tennessee has two games remaining, against Kentucky 2-7 Saturday and against Vanderbilt 2-5-1 the following week.

The final poll will be taken after this Saturday's games and announced next Tuesday.

In the latest vote by a national panel of 47 sports writers and broadcasters, USC collected 21 votes for first-place and 432 points. Tennessee received 15 votes for the top position and 410 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

Kentucky lost its first six games, then beat West Virginia 22-7 and Vanderbilt 12-7 before bowing to Florida 28-12 last Saturday.

Ex-Marine Phil Odle One Of Top Receivers

PROVO, Utah (AP) — A rugged ex-Marine who has trouble sleeping after games may become college football's second leading pass receiver of all time Saturday.

He is Phil Odle, the swift split end of Brigham Young University, who needs six receptions against San Jose State to take the No. 2 spot from Hugh Campbell, former Washington State star.

Odle, a 5-foot-11, 185-pounder with fine moves and sure hands, has caught 171 passes for 2,437 yards and 22 touchdowns since he and three other Marine buddies were recruited by the Mormon school.

With six receptions, 17 yards and one touchdown in his final game, Odle would finish his career second in receptions, tied for second in touchdown catches, and third in reception yardage.

Howard Twilley, former Tulsa end, holds a wide lead as the all-time champion in each category.

Older than most college players, the 24-year-old Odle nonetheless plays with the desire of a sophomore trying to break into the starting line-up.

He has played about half the season with two broken ribs, suffered in BYU's 31-13 victory over eight-ranked Oregon State.

"I have to wear a plate around my ribs," Odle says. "It hurts when I get hit, but it's worth it. I love to play."

Seaver NL Rookie Of Year

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The last-place New York Mets have a first today in pitcher Tom Seaver, the National League's Rookie of the Year for 1967, and they have the luck of the draw to thank for it.

They can thank, too, the 11 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America, who voted for Seaver, the cool, confident 23-year-old winner of 16 games last season.

Two other right-handed pitchers were mentioned in the voting announced Monday. Dick Hughes of the champion St. Louis Cardinals drew six votes and Gary Nolan of Cincinnati collected three.

Hughes posted a 16-6 record while Nolan had a 14-8 mark.

"I am thrilled to win the award because there were other fine young pitchers in our league besides Hughes and Nolan, like Don Wilson of Houston and Bill Singer of Los Angeles," said Seaver in Manhattan Beach, Calif. "I felt that Hughes would win it because he won 16 games for a pennant winner."

Seaver was obtained by the Atlanta Braves in the college draft and signed to reported $40,000 contract in February, 1966. However, Baseball Commissioner Willam D. Eckert nullified the contract because the signing violated the college rule.

Two months later, the Mets obtained the rights to the young pitcher in a special drawing in which the Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Phillies also were involved.

Seaver is the first Mets' player ever to capture an official postseason award and the first member of a last-place team to win the rookie award in the National League.

Outfielders Albie Person and Bob Allison were named the leading American League rookies while with last-place Washington, Pearson in 1958 and Allison in 1959. The award in each league was originated in 1949.

Seaver is the first pitcher to capture NL rookie honors since Jack Sanford of Philadelphia in 1957. He set Mets' records last season in victories plus complete games, 18, strikeouts 170 and lowest earned run average, 2.76.

In addition, with a scoreless one-inning performance he preserved the National League's 2-1, 15-inning victory over the American League in the mid-season All-Star game.

No. 1 San Diego St. Meets S. F. St. In Camellia Bowl

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

San Diego State will put its No. 1 Associated Press small college ranking on the line Dec. 9 in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif., when the Aztecs take on high-powered San Francisco State.

Quarterback Bob "Holy" Toledo, whose credentials show 45 touchdown passes this season and more than 3,500 yards gained in the air, leads San Francisco State. The Gators are tops in the nation in total offense and passing and second in scoring.

The nation's individual scoring leader, halfback Bert Nye, will be in the Tangerine Bowl Dec. 16 at Orlando, Fla., where his West Chester State, Pa., team will probably meet tenth-ranked Morgan State.

West Chester has a 10-0 record and the Lambert Cup, symbolic of the best college division team in the East.

Morgan State is 8-0 this season and has won 26 games in a row.

Also in the running for the Tangerine Bowl are Temple, Pa., 7-2, and Northeastern, Mass., 7-1.

Second-rated North Dakota State already has a bid to the Pecan Bowl Dec. 16 at Abilene, Tex. The Associated Press was told by a reliable source that the other spot will go to Texas-Arlington, ranked sixth with a 9-1 record.

The Grantland Rice Bowl, set for Dec. 9 in Murfreesboro, Tenn., won't be completed until Friday. However, Eastern Kentucky, No. 3, has been chosen with a 7-1-2 record. Eastern's only loss was in the season opener to Dayton, a major opponent. Split end Aaron Marsh has caught 70 passes for nine touchdowns, including 19 passes in one game for 316 yards.

If Tennessee-Martin wins Thanksgiving, it more than likely will be chosen for the Grantland game. Ball State of Indiana, 7-2, also is in contention.

All four bowl games are sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Semifinalists in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Champion Bowl include four undefeated clubs: Northern Michigan at Fairmont State of West Virginia and Eastern Washington State at New Mexico Highlands.

Both games are scheduled for Saturday with the winners meeting on the home field of one of the finalists Dec. 9 in the Champion Bowl.

William Jewell of Liberty, Mo., meets Doane, Neb., Saturday in the Mineral Water Bowl at Excelsior Springs, Mo. Doane, 9-0, will put its 18-game victory string on the line against Jewell's 10-0 mark.

In a revised format on the West Coast, West Texas State, 7-3, plays San Fernando Valley State College, 6-3, in the Junior Rose Bowl Dec. 2 in Pasadena's famed stadium.

Previously the Junior Rose Bowl had been a postseason game between the best junior college in the West and an Eastern representative.

Leo Strang Resigns At Kent State

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Leo Strang resigned today as head football coach at Kent State University.

Strang, 44, told President Robert I. White and Athletic Director Carl E. Erickson he was giving up his coaching duties immediately.

He refused to give any reason for his resignation but said he would continue teaching assignments until next June when his contract expires.

Thurmond Takes NBA Score Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Nate Thurmond has replaced his San Francisco Warrior teammate, Jim King, at the head of the National Basketball Association scoring parade.

The big center, who was fifth the previous week, has scored 450 points for a 22.5 per game average through games of last Sunday, league statistics released today revealed.

King now is second with 437 points and a 21.6 average. Dave Bing of Detroit replaced Zelmo Beatty of St. Louis in third place, with 434 points, and Beatty is fourth with 430.

Latourette Kicks Way To MD

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chuck Latourette hopes to kick his way through medical school.

The 22-year-old rookie from Rice is just what the doctor ordered for the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League. And he came to the Cards as a free agent.

A year ago, the Cardinals had no consistent punter. This year, Latourette brings cheers from the stands with his booming kicks. In 10 games, Latourette is averaging better than 40 yards per kick.

After a somewhat erratic start, Latourette has settled down to become a steady punter.

"What I've got to work on now," Latourette says, "is consistency."

He came to the Cardinals as a free agent, passing up a bonus offer from the Denver Broncos of the American Football league. St. Louis offered him a bonus, but only if he made the team.

The native of Jonesboro, Ark., hopes to enroll next February at the University of Tennessee medical school in Memphis.

"It'll take six years now," he explained, "instead of usual four years," because he plans to play football enroute to the medical degree.

Flat Racing Bill Gains In Pa. House

HARRISBURG (AP) — The prime sponsor of a Senate-approved bill to legalize flat racing in Pennsylvania is confident it will pass the House.

"I was told it would be released from House committee immediately," Senate Majority Whip Albert R. Pechan, R-Armstrong, said.

The controversial measure to allow thoroughbred racing passed the Senate Monday, 28-14, without debate. Gov. Shafer previously stated he would sign such a bill provided it cleared the legislature in agreeable form.

The voting breakdown for the bill, by party, was 13 minority Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Currently, only harness racing is permitted in the state.

The measure authorizes four flat tracks, with locations to be determined by a racing commission. One estimate is the state would realize $50 million in revenue yearly from the parimutual betting once the four tracks are established.

Penn State Lambert Poll Top Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Penn State held its position as the No. 1 major college football team in the East Monday in weekly voting for the Lambert Trophy.

The Nittany Lions, who have won their last six in a row for a 7-2 record, were the unanimous choice of a panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Penn State closes its season against Pittsburgh Saturday.

The Top Ten: 1. Penn State; 2. Army; 3. Syracse; 4. Yale; 2. Army; 3. Syracuse; 4. Yale; Harvard; 8. Princeton; 9. Cornell; 10. Pittsburgh.

Astros Get Hec Torres From Angels

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros announced Monday night they have acquired shortstop Hector Torres from the California Angels.

Torres, 22, was acquired to complete a deal that sent pitcher Jim Weaver from the Astros' Oklahoma City farm club to the Angels last summer.

Torres, a native of Monterrey, Mexico, played with Seattle in the Pacific Coast League the past two seasons and was among the top three in fielding both years. He batted .214 in 1967 and .249 in 1966. He collected 14 doubles, seven triples, four home runs and knocked in 39 runs in 139 games last year.

W. Chester Lambert Cup Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated West Chester State was voted today the best college football team in the East in the middle-sized category.

By a unanimous choice of a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters, the Pennsylvania team will receive the Lambert Cup, awarded annually for this honor. West Chester beat Clarion 27-7 Saturday for its 10th straight victory.

West Chester, coached by Bob Mitten, succeeds Gettysburg as the Cup winner.

The final standings: 1. West Chester; 2. Temple; 3. Hofstra; 4. Northeastern; 5. Williams; 6. New Hampshire; 7. Springfield; 8. Southern Connecticut; 9. Bucknell; 10. C. W. Post.

The American League pennant winning Boston Red Sox drew 206,883 fans to Tiger Stadium in Detroit for their nine games on eight playing dates.

Pistons Nip Supersonics 120-118

By The Associated Press

Two former University of Seattle stars teamed up in the losing seconds, and the chances of the Seattle Supersonics for a second straight National Basketball Association victory over Detroit went boom.

John Tresvant took a pass from Eddie Miles and scored with 34 seconds left Monday night to give Detroit a 118-114 lead. Miles, who finished with 38 points, than sank two free throws with seven seconds remaining and the Pistons won the game 120-118. Bob Weiss led Seattle with 27.

There was no other NBA action.

In the only American Basketball Association games, Houston beat Kentucky 102-90 and Oakland topped Minnesota 116-110.

Art Becker scored 25 points to lead Houston, which drew away after Kentucky had rallied to within four points early in the fourth quarter. Darrell Carrier paced Kentucky with 21.

LaVern Tart scored 23 of his 25 points in the second half and sparked Oakland past Minnesota. Minnesota was led by Les Hunter with 25.

Seaver NL Rookie Of Year

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The last-place New York Mets have a first today in pitcher Tom Seaver, the National League's Rookie of the Year for 1967, and they have the luck of the draw to thank for it.

They can thank, too, the 11 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America, who voted for Seaver, the cool, confident 23-year-old winner of 16 games last season.

Two other right-handed pitchers were mentioned in the voting announced Monday. Dick Hughes of the champion St. Louis Cardinals drew six votes and Gary Nolan of Cincinnati collected three.

Hughes posted a 16-6 record while Nolan had a 14-8 mark.

"I am thrilled to win the award because there were other fine young pitchers in our league besides Hughes and Nolan, like Don Wilson of Houston and Bill Singer of Los Angeles," said Seaver in Manhattan Beach, Calif. "I felt that Hughes would win it because he won 16 games for a pennant winner."

Seaver was obtained by the Atlanta Braves in the college draft and signed to reported $40,000 contract in February, 1966. However, Baseball Commissioner Willam D. Eckert nullified the contract because the signing violated the college rule.

Two months later, the Mets obtained the rights to the young pitcher in a special drawing in which the Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Phillies also were involved.

Seaver is the first Mets' player ever to capture an official postseason award and the first member of a last-place team to win the rookie award in the National League.

Outfielders Albie Person and Bob Allison were named the leading American League rookies while with last-place Washington, Pearson in 1958 and Allison in 1959. The award in each league was originated in 1949.

Seaver is the first pitcher to capture NL rookie honors since Jack Sanford of Philadelphia in 1957. He set Mets' records last season in victories plus complete games, 18, strikeouts 170 and lowest earned run average, 2.76.

In addition, with a scoreless one-inning performance he preserved the National League's 2-1, 15-inning victory over the American League in the mid-season All-Star game.

No. 1 San Diego St. Meets S. F. St. In Camellia Bowl

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

San Diego State will put its No. 1 Associated Press small college ranking on the line Dec. 9 in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif., when the Aztecs take on high-powered San Francisco State.

Quarterback Bob "Holy" Toledo, whose credentials show 45 touchdown passes this season and more than 3,500 yards gained in the air, leads San Francisco State. The Gators are tops in the nation in total offense and passing and second in scoring.

The nation's individual scoring leader, halfback Bert Nye, will be in the Tangerine Bowl Dec. 16 at Orlando, Fla., where his West Chester State, Pa., team will probably meet tenth-ranked Morgan State.

West Chester has a 10-0 record and the Lambert Cup, symbolic of the best college division team in the East.

Morgan State is 8-0 this season and has won 26 games in a row.

Also in the running for the Tangerine Bowl are Temple, Pa., 7-2, and Northeastern, Mass., 7-1.

Second-rated North Dakota State already has a bid to the Pecan Bowl Dec. 16 at Abilene, Tex. The Associated Press was told by a reliable source that the other spot will go to Texas-Arlington, ranked sixth with a 9-1 record.

The Grantland Rice Bowl, set for Dec. 9 in Murfreesboro, Tenn., won't be completed until Friday. However, Eastern Kentucky, No. 3, has been chosen with a 7-1-2 record. Eastern's only loss was in the season opener to Dayton, a major opponent. Split end Aaron Marsh has caught 70 passes for nine touchdowns, including 19 passes in one game for 316 yards.

If Tennessee-Martin wins Thanksgiving, it more than likely will be chosen for the Grantland game. Ball State of Indiana, 7-2, also is in contention.

All four bowl games are sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Semifinalists in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Champion Bowl include four undefeated clubs: Northern Michigan at Fairmont State of West Virginia and Eastern Washington State at New Mexico Highlands.

Both games are scheduled for Saturday with the winners meeting on the home field of one of the finalists Dec. 9 in the Champion Bowl.

William Jewell of Liberty, Mo., meets Doane, Neb., Saturday in the Mineral Water Bowl at Excelsior Springs, Mo. Doane, 9-0, will put its 18-game victory string on the line against Jewell's 10-0 mark.

In a revised format on the West Coast, West Texas State, 7-3, plays San Fernando Valley State College, 6-3, in the Junior Rose Bowl Dec. 2 in Pasadena's famed stadium.

Previously the Junior Rose Bowl had been a postseason game between the best junior college in the West and an Eastern representative.

Leo Strang Resigns At Kent State

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Leo Strang resigned today as head football coach at Kent State University.

Strang, 44, told President Robert I. White and Athletic Director Carl E. Erickson he was giving up his coaching duties immediately.

He refused to give any reason for his resignation but said he would continue teaching assignments until next June when his contract expires.

Thurmond Takes NBA Score Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Nate Thurmond has replaced his San Francisco Warrior teammate, Jim King, at the head of the National Basketball Association scoring parade.

The big center, who was fifth the previous week, has scored 450 points for a 22.5 per game average through games of last Sunday, league statistics released today revealed.

King now is second with 437 points and a 21.6 average. Dave Bing of Detroit replaced Zelmo Beatty of St. Louis in third place, with 434 points, and Beatty is fourth with 430.

Latourette Kicks Way To MD

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chuck Latourette hopes to kick his way through medical school.

The 22-year-old rookie from Rice is just what the doctor ordered for the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League. And he came to the Cards as a free agent.

A year ago, the Cardinals had no consistent punter. This year, Latourette brings cheers from the stands with his booming kicks. In 10 games, Latourette is averaging better than 40 yards per kick.

After a somewhat erratic start, Latourette has settled down to become a steady punter.

"What I've got to work on now," Latourette says, "is consistency."

He came to the Cardinals as a free agent, passing up a bonus offer from the Denver Broncos of the American Football league. St. Louis offered him a bonus, but only if he made the team.

The native of Jonesboro, Ark., hopes to enroll next February at the University of Tennessee medical school in Memphis.

"It'll take six years now," he explained, "instead of usual four years," because he plans to play football enroute to the medical degree.

Penn State Lambert Poll Top Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Penn State held its position as the No. 1 major college football team in the East Monday in weekly voting for the Lambert Trophy.

The Nittany Lions, who have won their last six in a row for a 7-2 record, were the unanimous choice of a panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Penn State closes its season against Pittsburgh Saturday.

The Top Ten: 1. Penn State; 2. Army; 3. Syracse; 4. Yale; 2. Army; 3. Syracuse; 4. Yale; Harvard; 8. Princeton; 9. Cornell; 10. Pittsburgh.

Astros Get Hec Torres From Angels

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros announced Monday night they have acquired shortstop Hector Torres from the California Angels.

Torres, 22, was acquired to complete a deal that sent pitcher Jim Weaver from the Astros' Oklahoma City farm club to the Angels last summer.

Torres, a native of Monterrey, Mexico, played with Seattle in the Pacific Coast League the past two seasons and was among the top three in fielding both years. He batted .214 in 1967 and .249 in 1966. He collected 14 doubles, seven triples, four home runs and knocked in 39 runs in 139 games last year.

W. Chester Lambert Cup Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated West Chester State was voted today the best college football team in the East in the middle-sized category.

By a unanimous choice of a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters, the Pennsylvania team will receive the Lambert Cup, awarded annually for this honor. West Chester beat Clarion 27-7 Saturday for its 10th straight victory.

West Chester, coached by Bob Mitten, succeeds Gettysburg as the Cup winner.

The final standings: 1. West Chester; 2. Temple; 3. Hofstra; 4. Northeastern; 5. Williams; 6. New Hampshire; 7. Springfield; 8. Southern Connecticut; 9. Bucknell; 10. C. W. Post.

The American League pennant winning Boston Red Sox drew 206,883 fans to Tiger Stadium in Detroit for their nine games on eight playing dates.

Flat Racing Bill Gains In Pa. House

HARRISBURG (AP) — The prime sponsor of a Senate-approved bill to legalize flat racing in Pennsylvania is confident it will pass the House.

"I was told it would be released from House committee immediately," Senate Majority Whip Albert R. Pechan, R-Armstrong, said.

The controversial measure to allow thoroughbred racing passed the Senate Monday, 28-14, without debate. Gov. Shafer previously stated he would sign such a bill provided it cleared the legislature in agreeable form.

The voting breakdown for the bill, by party, was 13 minority Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Currently, only harness racing is permitted in the state.

The measure authorizes four flat tracks, with locations to be determined by a racing commission. One estimate is the state would realize $50 million in revenue yearly from the parimutual betting once the four tracks are established.

Pistons Nip Supersonics 120-118

By The Associated Press

Two former University of Seattle stars teamed up in the losing seconds, and the chances of the Seattle Supersonics for a second straight National Basketball Association victory over Detroit went boom.

John Tresvant took a pass from Eddie Miles and scored with 34 seconds left Monday night to give Detroit a 118-114 lead. Miles, who finished with 38 points, than sank two free throws with seven seconds remaining and the Pistons won the game 120-118. Bob Weiss led Seattle with 27.

There was no other NBA action.

In the only American Basketball Association games, Houston beat Kentucky 102-90 and Oakland topped Minnesota 116-110.

Art Becker scored 25 points to lead Houston, which drew away after Kentucky had rallied to within four points early in the fourth quarter. Darrell Carrier paced Kentucky with 21.

LaVern Tart scored 23 of his 25 points in the second half and sparked Oakland past Minnesota. Minnesota was led by Les Hunter with 25.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What is a good way to clean white sidewall tires?

A. — A good method is with denatured alcohol to which a small amount of hydrogen peroxide has been added. Saturate a rag with this solution, apply to the white sidewalls, allow a minute or so to penetrate, then repeat the application. Finally, rub the dirt off with an alcohol - dampened cloth.

Q.—How can I remove brown spots that have formed on the bottom of my electric frying pan?

A. Place the pan in a large plastic bag containing a cloth saturated with ammonia, close the bag with a rubber band, leaving the handle containing the electric element outside the bag. In a few hours, remove the pan from the bag, and you should be able to wipe the spots off with ease.

Q. How can I remedy a high-crown hat that dents easily?

A. You can give it extra reinforcement by spraying the inside of the crown with your favorite, quick - drying hair spray.

Q. How can I prevent my steam iron from leaving a mark over basting threads?

A. By using SILK thread.

Q. What can I do when perfume has been dropped on my dresser top?

The rig was driven by Leo E. Beaver of 331 Broadway, Wellsville, who told police he was unable to halt in time when a traffic signal turned red. Just Asks Return Of 'My 2 Boys'

Cubans Can Have Plane, Owner Says Of Hijack

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The owner of a plane which was hijacked at gunpoint and flown to Havana says, "The Cubans can have the plane...as long as I get my two boys back."

The pilot, J. V. Raymond, 35, of Pompano Beach radioed that a passenger pulled a gun on him Monday over South Florida.

"There is a man aboard with a gun and he intends to take this plane to Havana...and that's exactly what he's going to do," Raymond told the Federal Aviation Agency in Miami.

He described the hijacker as Russian but George Nesmith, owner of the Crescent Air Taxi Service plane, said the man's nationality was not determined.

Monday night a spokesman for the Swiss Embassy in Havana said Raymond and the copilot, Jeff White, 22, of Miami, were unharmed and probably would return to the United States today. Earlier Havana Radio had announced that White, who got out of the U.S. Coast Guard three weeks ago, and Raymond would be released as soon as the necessary paper work was completed.

The newscast, monitored in Miami, made no mention of the incident until almost six hours after the plane touched down in Cuba.

Cuban security cars and a van came on the runway as the Piper Apache 23 landed after the two-hour flight.

"They'll probably shake the boys and the plane down real good," said Nesmith.

Two fighter jets armed with air-to-air missiles flew from Homestead Air Force Base and caught up with the plane when the hijack message was received but backed off when the hijacker took the radio and warned he would kill White and Raymond if the F104 interceptors were not called off.

The thin blond passenger, between 25 and 30 years old, gave his name as Felix S. Mariasy when he rented the plane. He was picked up in a helicopter in Miami, flown to Hollywood and was supposedly debarking on a trip to Bimini when he pulled the gun. He had told Nesmith he wanted to go to Bimini to pick up his wife.

To use slices of leftover roast beef, spread them with prepared mustard and coat with fine dry bread crumbs. Fry the breaded slices in hot butter, browning on both sides. Serve with horseradish.

Income Tax Boost Looms

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional passage of President Johnson's proposed income tax boost became a renewed possibility today as an indirect consequence of Britain's currency devaluation.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, which calls the tax signals for Congress, announced a Nov. 28 hearing to consider a new administration surtax and cost-cutting package.

White House press secretary George Christian told newsmen Monday the package calls for the $7 billion, 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson requested Aug. 3, plus a matching $7 billion paring of expenditures.

But congressional sources said they understood the cost-cutting actually would amount only to about $4 billion in this fiscal year, which ends next June 30, including about $1 billion of cuts already made by Congress.

The surtax proposal had been considered dead for this session. If the British action has changed congressional sentiment, it could be enacted in time to take effect Jan. 1, Capitol Hill experts said, but only if Congress remains in session almost until Christmas.

The Ways and Means Committee shelved the Johnson tax plan on Oct. 3. It said the surtax would be considered again only if there was a firm agreement with the administration on reduced spending.

Mills apparently agreed to the new hearing despite some doubts it would bear fruit. He sandwiched his hearing announcement into a Hot Springs, Ark., speech that was sharply critical of the Johnson fiscal program.

"I have yet to receive a single, specific proposal from the administration as to how to implement the (committee's) expenditure control request," the Arkansas Democrat complained.

Mills rejected as "a fanciful notion" the argument of administration officials that Sunday's 14 per cent devaluation of the pound made a tax increase more necessary to defend the dollar from inflation and speculation.

"That a tax increase of the sort proposed will have any significant effect on our balance of payments in the reasonably near future and that it might contribute to the strengthening of the pound is completely without support of fact," he said.

But at the White House, Christian said the British move—followed by Federal Reserve Board action boosting its interest rate on loans to member banks from 4 to 4½ per cent—made the surtax package "absolutely imperative," in the opinion of the President.

Christian verified congressional reports of a determined administration drive to get the tax increase enacted by Jan. 1. He did not affirm the surmise of one reporter, framed as a question, that the administration was seizing on the British move—and the consequent concern of Congress over defense of the dollar-to get the surtax enacted.

Mills said Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler had been in touch with him over the weekend to tell him that the administration had something new to present.

He said Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board would be witnesses at the committee's executive session a week from today.

Just Asks Return Of 'My 2 Boys'

Cubans Can Have Plane, Owner Says Of Hijack

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The owner of a plane which was hijacked at gunpoint and flown to Havana says, "The Cubans can have the plane...as long as I get my two boys back."

The pilot, J. V. Raymond, 35, of Pompano Beach radioed that a passenger pulled a gun on him Monday over South Florida.

"There is a man aboard with a gun and he intends to take this plane to Havana...and that's exactly what he's going to do," Raymond told the Federal Aviation Agency in Miami.

He described the hijacker as Russian but George Nesmith, owner of the Crescent Air Taxi Service plane, said the man's nationality was not determined.

Monday night a spokesman for the Swiss Embassy in Havana said Raymond and the copilot, Jeff White, 22, of Miami, were unharmed and probably would return to the United States today. Earlier Havana Radio had announced that White, who got out of the U.S. Coast Guard three weeks ago, and Raymond would be released as soon as the necessary paper work was completed.

The newscast, monitored in Miami, made no mention of the incident until almost six hours after the plane touched down in Cuba.

Cuban security cars and a van came on the runway as the Piper Apache 23 landed after the two-hour flight.

"They'll probably shake the boys and the plane down real good," said Nesmith.

Two fighter jets armed with air-to-air missiles flew from Homestead Air Force Base and caught up with the plane when the hijack message was received but backed off when the hijacker took the radio and warned he would kill White and Raymond if the F104 interceptors were not called off.

The thin blond passenger, between 25 and 30 years old, gave his name as Felix S. Mariasy when he rented the plane. He was picked up in a helicopter in Miami, flown to Hollywood and was supposedly debarking on a trip to Bimini when he pulled the gun. He had told Nesmith he wanted to go to Bimini to pick up his wife.

To use slices of leftover roast beef, spread them with prepared mustard and coat with fine dry bread crumbs. Fry the breaded slices in hot butter, browning on both sides. Serve with horseradish.

The mishap occurred about 8 a. m. west of the spillway. The body was recovered shortly before noon.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Ferrigno is survived by a son, Laurence E. Ferrigno Jr., and a daughter, Trisann Ferrigno, both at home, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tigozzi, the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Rose Tigozzi, and the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Orsolina Villa, all of New Galilee.

Income Tax Boost Looms

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional passage of President Johnson's proposed income tax boost became a renewed possibility today as an indirect consequence of Britain's currency devaluation.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, which calls the tax signals for Congress, announced a Nov. 28 hearing to consider a new administration surtax and cost-cutting package.

White House press secretary George Christian told newsmen Monday the package calls for the $7 billion, 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson requested Aug. 3, plus a matching $7 billion paring of expenditures.

But congressional sources said they understood the cost-cutting actually would amount only to about $4 billion in this fiscal year, which ends next June 30, including about $1 billion of cuts already made by Congress.

The surtax proposal had been considered dead for this session. If the British action has changed congressional sentiment, it could be enacted in time to take effect Jan. 1, Capitol Hill experts said, but only if Congress remains in session almost until Christmas.

The Ways and Means Committee shelved the Johnson tax plan on Oct. 3. It said the surtax would be considered again only if there was a firm agreement with the administration on reduced spending.

Mills apparently agreed to the new hearing despite some doubts it would bear fruit. He sandwiched his hearing announcement into a Hot Springs, Ark., speech that was sharply critical of the Johnson fiscal program.

"I have yet to receive a single, specific proposal from the administration as to how to implement the (committee's) expenditure control request," the Arkansas Democrat complained.

Mills rejected as "a fanciful notion" the argument of administration officials that Sunday's 14 per cent devaluation of the pound made a tax increase more necessary to defend the dollar from inflation and speculation.

"That a tax increase of the sort proposed will have any significant effect on our balance of payments in the reasonably near future and that it might contribute to the strengthening of the pound is completely without support of fact," he said.

But at the White House, Christian said the British move—followed by Federal Reserve Board action boosting its interest rate on loans to member banks from 4 to 4½ per cent—made the surtax package "absolutely imperative," in the opinion of the President.

Christian verified congressional reports of a determined administration drive to get the tax increase enacted by Jan. 1. He did not affirm the surmise of one reporter, framed as a question, that the administration was seizing on the British move—and the consequent concern of Congress over defense of the dollar-to get the surtax enacted.

Mills said Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler had been in touch with him over the weekend to tell him that the administration had something new to present.

He said Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board would be witnesses at the committee's executive session a week from today.

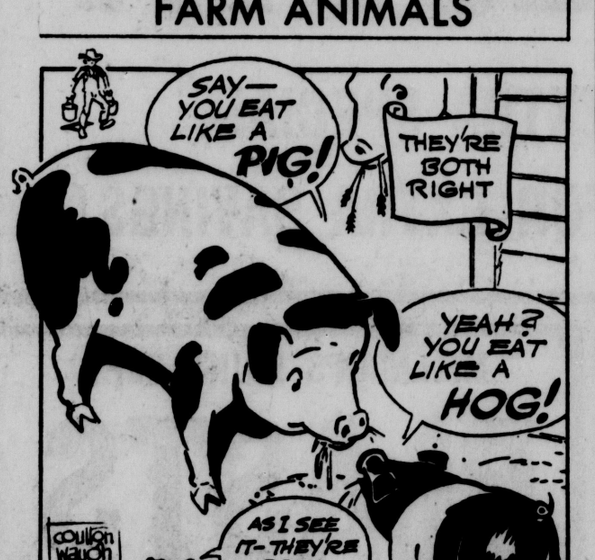
Junior Editors Quiz on FARM ANIMALS



QUESTION: What is the difference between a pig and a hog?

ANSWER: People often use pig and hog interchangeably. Pigs, hogs or swine are descended from the European wild hog and belong to an animal group known by the Latin name of suidae; they are the genus Cus and the species scrofa. Hogs (generally the preferred name) are very important farm animals, giving us ham, bacon, sausage, pork chops and other byproducts. Hogs are cleaner and smarter than most people realize — they rank as the ninth most intelligent animal. The word hog, although a general term for these animals, usually refers to an adult, one which is ready for the market. Pig is the word generally used for a hog less than 10 weeks old. A male hog is called a boar, a female a sow. The sow farrows when she gives birth to a litter of little pigs. After a little pig has been weaned from taking his mother's milk, he is called a shote.
